WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, April 16, 1894.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Ex-Speaker Reed takes his new honor easily, as he does everything that comes to him. He has never had a doubt that the counting of the quorum would eventually become one of the fixed rules of the House, no matter which is in power. If he felt any surprise at all at the action of the democratic caucus in directing the committee on Rules to prepare a rule providing for the counting of members present and not voting, in order to make a quorum, it was not because the caucus had come around to his ideas but because as many as forty democrats should have voted against the proposition. While the republican members of the House are thorough believers in the principle of counting a quorum it is not yet certain that they will support the Rule reported by the committee on Rules, or that they will vote at all to help the democrats get a quorum to adopt it. The principal reason for this uncertainty is that the caucus resolution also directed the committee to report a rule to compel the attendance of absent members. It will depend upon how the democrats intend to accomplish the proposed reforms what position the republicans will take.

Another democratic Senator has placed himself in the doubtful column. Senator Smith, of New Jersey, in his speech on the tariff bill, which Senator Quay correctly called a "measure of mingled malice, compromise and sectionalism, "renewed the cold shivers which Senator Hill sent up and down the spines of the free traders last week. It has been agreed that the debate on the bill as a whole shall end next Monday. Then the contest over the individual schedules will begin and the fighting will be forced by the republicans from the first to the last. The democratic managers of the bill are in doubt as to the status of at least six democratic Senators, not to mention the successor to the late Senator Vance, of North Carolina, who died here Saturday night.

Senator Hill and Vorhees no longer speak when they pass each other. The cause is the remarkable raking over Hill gave Vorhees in his speech. They speak of each other to their personal friends in such endearing terms as "blatant demagogue" and "traitor", and each refers sarcastically to the others "gall" in consideriug himself a Presidential possibility. Vorhees calls Hill a traitor because in deference to the almost unanimous sentiment of his state he refused to support the tariff monstrosity. That refusal is the one act of Hill's since he became a member of the Senate that was not tainted with demagogism. He was sent to the Senate to care for the interests of the state of New York and for once he did it, although he had to oppose his own party to do it. Hill hits the bull's eye when he calls Vorhees a demagogue. He has never been and never will be anything else. If any one doubts this let him read the speech with which Vorhees opened the tariff debate.

One democratic Congressman has provided himself with shelter from the great political cyclone of next Noyember, and many more of them would like to do the same. The man referred to is Barnes Compton, who got into the House in '92, by the skin of his teeth, as the saying goes, from the Fifth Maryland District, and who was several days ago nominated by Mr. Cleveland to be Collector of the port of Baltimore. He knew he couldn't be reelected so he utilized his "pull" to grab a nice fat federal office which he could keep until after the inauguration of a republican president in 1897.

It is charged here that Mr. Cleveland was not only cognizant of the corrupt bargain made by the frightened free-traders with the sugar trust, whereby the trust is to be allowed to fix the sugar schedule of the tariff bill just as it wants it in return for helping the free traders to push the bill through the Senate, but that he suggested the making of the bargain.

No Washington jury ever rendered a more popular verdict than that which gave Miss Pollard $15,0 0 as damages in the breach of promise of marriage suit she brought against Representative Breckenridge of Ky. It was taken all in all perhaps the filthiest case ever tried in the Washington courts, and it was made worse by the blackguard tactics adopted by some of the Kentucky lawyers brought here to defend him. It is not because of any sympathy the people feel for Miss Pollard that they like the verdict, but because they believe it will result in retiring with a hypocrite as Breckenridge has shown himself to be from the seat of Congress he has disgraced by the double like he has lived in their midst. If it does not, then the voters in his district must be a queer kind of men. There was never a doubt in what the verdict would be after Breckenridge's own testimony was heard, and it is not surprising that the jury did not take an hour to decide, although it had taken more than five weeks to hear the case.

ODD FELLOW'S DAY.

The 75th Anniversary to Take Place in Lewisburg, Thursday, April 26th.

Extensive preparations are already being made for the entertainment of the thousands who will throng Lewisburg's streets on Odd Fellow's Day, Thursday, April 26th. An unusually interesting program has been arranged, and the event promises to far surpass the centennial anniversary in 1885 and Grand Army Day held at Lewisburg a few years ago. The grand parade of Odd Fellows, in bright regalia and bands of music, will be an attractive feature, as Lewisburg, with its broad, level streets laid out at right angles, affords unequalled advantages for parading. In the morning the address of welcome will be delivered in Odd Fellow's hall by Hon. Benjamin K. Focht; later the Opera House will be thrown open when addresses will be delivered by Rev. David Craft, and other prominent members of the order, including officers of the Grand Lodge. The general parade will take place at 2 o'clock; the dress parade of Patriarchs Militant will occur on the Bucknell University athletic grounds, at 4.30, commanded by Col. Frank A. Deans. Special trains will be run on all roads entering Lewisburg, and the round trip rate will be low. The several cases of smallpox reported in Lewisburg a month ago have entirely recovered and there is not the remotest possibility of contagion. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of Central Pennsylvania to join in this celebration.

DANGEROUS EMPLOYMENTS.

In considering labor difficulties in connection with coal mining and the operation of railroads, the extra hazardous character of these pursuits is not often taken into consideration. What thousands of lives depend on the fidelity, watchfulness and sobriety of railroad employes. The great public has a deep interest that they should be well contented, well paid and not worked too many hours as important factors in their efficiency. Nor is much thought given to the peculiar character of the coal miner's work. Shut out from the light of day, in a hazardous occupation, and debarred to a large extent from association with those not of his craft, the miner has claims all his own on the consideration of the public. They are blamed with being contentious and much given to striking, but may this not be a result of their avocation, the mental and physical wear of their depressing pursuit?

As to the dangers of life and limb of these two pursuits, we find some figures that tell their lesson in the last bulletin of the mining department of the Pennsylvania state college. It relates to the mining and railroad accidents in the state. A comparison of the accidents resulting from mining and railroading shows that the former is not so much more dangerous than the latter as is generally supposed. Out of every 509 employes in the bituminous region last year one was killed; out of every 209 one was injured. In railroad employ one out of every 300 was killed and one out of every 50 injured. Even in the deeper and more extensive mines the average of deaths to the number employed is smaller than on railroads.

Pennsylvania, as we learn from the bulletin, produced last year enough coal to give each family in the United States six tons, which, it is estimated, is more than enough to supply all, if it were so distributed. The greater portion of it, however, goes to manufacturing purposes, to locomotives and steamships.

DEMOCRATS ARE SATISFIED.

Philadelphia, April 17.—The Democratic politicians who have returned from Harrisburg, where they were in attendance upon the State Committee, talked today as though they were thoroughly satisfied with their work. One and all seems to think they have chosen the right kind of a man. They say that James A. Stranaham will show that he is a thorough organizer and a hard worker. It was held that he was a successful Chairman of the Mercer County Committee, and that in that capacity he proved his fitness for larger operations. The work of organization is to be immediately entered upon and until September the details will be carried on in Harrisburg After that the campaign work will be done in this city.

Mr. John Decker, one of the prosperous farmers living near Hublersburg, was a pleasant caller at this office to-day. Mr. Decker is much pleased with the new railorad through Nittany valley but thinks for the protection of stock cattle guards should be put in at all crossings.

ANOTHER HERO GONE.

A Brief Sketch of the Life of Jeremiah Blair.

The death of Jeremiah Blair, at his residence in Unionville on Tuesday morning, April 17th, 1894, again reminds us of the fleetness of time and the rapidly passing away of the heroes of the war for the Union, liberty and self-government. A few years hence all those who, for the love of their country, left behind them all those home associations which makes life worth living for, and rallied to the defense of their country, braving death in defense of free institutions and consequently free men. Among those who prized the Union more than life and enlisted under the folds of his country's banner in its defense, was Jeremiah Blair, who was mustered out of life's services Tuesday morning, aged 67 years, and a native of Centre county.

Jerry Blair, as he was familiarly called, enlisted in Captain Israel Shaeffer's company of cavalry, at Nittany Hall, this county, in October, 1861, which company afterwards became company E, of the Seventh Pennsylvania cavalry. The regiment done active duty in the southwest until late in the fall of 1865 when it was mustered out of service. The regiment was known as the "Sober Regiment," as that was its most effective weapon. It participated in nearly all the battles fought between Louisville and Gelma, Ala., the latter being the last battle participated in by the regiment, which was captured by the cavalry by charging on what was considered impregnable fortifications.

The Seventh cavalry was constantly on duty from the time it left Louisville, Ky., until the close of the war. It was also present at the capture of Jeff Davis, arriving in his rear a few minutes after his surrender to Lieut. Col. Pritchard's company, of the Fourth Michigan cavalry, and was the Ex-President's escort to Macon, Georgia, where Davis was put aboard the cars and sent to Fortress Monroe.

During the entire term of service Jerry Blair was never off duty only from disability from wounds received in line of duty. He was one of the very best soldiers of his regiment, and after the rebellion was put down, an excellent citizen. Some years ago he became an invalid from the breaking out anew of the wounds received in defense of his country, and about one month ago dry gangreene set in, resulting in his death. He never was married, but several sisters and brothers survive him.

"Dust to dust, and ashes to ashes," is the fate of all. Let his, and all other veterans' memory be held sacred by the present and future generations as long as liberty exists on this continent. His funeral, as stated in Tuesday's NEWS, will take place from his late residence in Unionville, at 10 o'clock a. m., Thursday, the 19th.

BOTH PLEASED AND SORRY.

Mr. Isaiah Coxey, of Boalsburg, an uncle of the now famous Coxey, of the Commonweal army, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday and in speaking of his nephew's exploit he stated that he recently wrote Captain Coxey a letter in which he said;

"I am proud to know that I have a nephew whose name is now known from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the great lakes to the gulf of Mexico. Whose fame and doings are probably household words in every hamlet in this and other countries; but I am sorry to know that I have a nephew who is such a big fool as to imagine himself a second saviour upon earth." Mr. Coxey seems to have the correct idea of things, even if he is an uncle of the famous Captain of the Commonweal army.

AN OPEN SWITCH DID IT.

Connellsville, Pa., April 13.—The east bound express on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which left Pittsburg at 6.20 o'clock last evening, ran into a freight train at Tyrone, three miles west of here. The baggage car and one day coach were demolished, but no one was killed. Several passengers were seriously hurt and all were badly shaken up. A dozen coke cars were wrecked. The accident was caused by an open switch. The names of the injured could not be learned. All traffic on the road was delayed six hours.

A good way to amuse a sick child who cannot sit up or entertain itself in ways ordinarily dear to the infantile soul is to arrange a mirror on an easel in such a way as to reflect the objects to be seen from the window. If no easel is procurable an upright stick fastened to the back of a chair will answer the purpose and the mirror can be tilted at various angles and moved backward and forward to bring different portions of the outdoor scene into view. If the child is too weary to care for the moving panorama of the street the glass can be made to reflect the restful blue of the sky or the billowy cumulus clouds, which will generally have a soothing effect and make tired eyelids droop and tired bodies relax into health giving slumber.

FIRE-PROOF THEATRES.

The burning of the Davison Theatre in Milwaukee has renewed the familiar sneers at so-called fire-proof buildings. The Davidson building was one of these, and the underwriters are represented as expressing indignation that they insured it under the representation that it would not burn. The fault-finding does not appear well placed in this instance, for while it is true that the interior of the theatre and its contents were consumed in the flames, the remainder of the building, including a large hotel, stood absolutely uninjured. It was only the accident by which a number of firemen fell into the flames, through the collapse of the roof on which they were standing, that has drawn attention to this fire and made it appear more destructive of property than it actually was.

The interior construction of the theatre seems to have been incomplete. There was no adequate safety wall and fireproof curtain between the stage and the auditorium, so that when the fire started it cleaned out everything within its reach. But it did not go beyond the actual walls of the theatre, and it might as well be understood that no plan has yet been devised for rendering absolutely incombustible the galleries, stage, scenery and other furniture and appliances of a place of this kind.

In other words, the safety of a theatre from fire must always depend upon care and watchfulness not only during the entertainment, but during the time when the building is deserted, the greater number of theatre fires occurring, as this one did, in the early hours of the morning. But fire can be confined within a theatre just as easily as it can be confined within any other single apartment, except in proportion to its greater size. A well-constructed and well-managed modern theatre should involve no more risk than any other large building, and the Milwaukee example, so far from casting discredit upon fireproof construction, rather affords a fresh testimony to its security and value.

SOMETHING NEW IN COINAGE.

The senate has adopted, without opposition, a resolution requesting the president, "if not incompatible with the public interests, to enter into negotiations with the republic of Mexico looking at the United States mints of standard Mexican dollars under some agreement with the said republic of Mexico as to seigniorage method and amount of said coinage." The resolution was introduced by Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, which indicates it is acceptable to the silver mining interest.

As Mexico is on a silver basis as regards coinage, the expectation is that the mint facilities offered will furnish an outlet for silver bullion produced in the United States to the exclusion of the product of her own mines. This is an uncertain experiment. As the correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger at Washington puts it, "the inducement held out to Mexico for discarding her own bullion in the resulting seigniorage, but as Mexico has the benefit of the seignirage resulting from the coinage of her own bullion, nothing would be gained by transferring her coinage in whole or in part to the United States." No practical results are expected to follow the adoption of the resolution.

An opening for our surplus product of silver is suggested in the speedy ratification of the recent treaty negotiated with China, with the resulting increase of commercial relations with that country. China is a large taker of Mexican silver coin, which is reminted there, and it is probably in view of Senator Wolcott that our silver would be more readily accepted in China in the shape of Mexican dollars than in the form of uncoined bullion. There was some such purpose in the coinage of trade dollars at our mints years ago, but it was only a moderate success, and their coinage was discontinued and the outstanding dollars redeemed at our mints.

DIED ON SUNDAY.

Mrs. Mollie Miller, wife of Lewis Miller, of Valentine's Forge, died at her home on Sunday morning at 6 o'clock. She was aged but 26 years and leaves a husband and two small children to mourn her sudden demise. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment to be made in the new cemetery. The ceremonies were under the auspices of Camp 447, P. O. S. of A.

—The funeral of Mrs. Lewis Miller was held on Tuesday afternoon from her late residence near Valentine's Forge. Rev. J. C. Young, pastor of the M. E. church, officiated and the pall bearers were: Jacob Moyer, George Smith, James Weagley, Jerry Flack, Benjamin Fulton, Philip Smith, Z. W. Bathurst and James Smith.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL.

The Condition of Affairs in the Coke Regions Is More Serious.

Pittsburg, April 13.—Dispatches from the coke counties today are conflicting. The situation in the southern end of the region is said to be critical, while in the northern district the works are generally in operation. Nothing is known here of the call from Dunbar for troops. Chairman Frick and Secretary Lovejoy, of the Frick Coke company, have received no information that would indicate the necessity of calling on the troops. Governor Pattison and Adjutant General Greenland were at New Castle last night, attending the laying of the corner stone of the State hospital. They are expected here some time to-day, and will remain over night.

A dispatch from Harrisburg would indicate that the call was not from the sheriff. It says: The situation in the Connellsville coke region is becoming more serious, and, unless the hositilities of the strikers toward the workingmen cease, the state authorities will take a hand in the suppression of the belligerents.

A message received at the executive department late last night from Wister & Co., of Dunbar, owners of the Dunbar furnace, states that the situation justifies the governor in calling out the troops. The firm complains that their men are willing to work, but that they are intimidated and obstructed by the strikers; that many of them remain away from the furnaces. The message was received by Private Secretary Tate, but he refused to make it public. Mr. Tate has advised the company that Governor Pattison is in Pittsburg to-day, and suggested that members see him personally.

There is nothing at the adjutant general's department to indicate that the troops will be called out.

Private Secretary Tate intimates that the executive will not call out the guard unless the sheriff of Fayette county notifies the governor that he has exhausted his power to preserve the peace and asks the assistance of the military.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH AND SMALL-POX.

Philadelphia, April 13.—In compliance with the resolution adopted by the international conference of state boards of health at Toronto, October 6, 1886, Benjamin Lee, the secretary of the state board of health, states that small pox exists at a number of places in this state. The number of cases and their location is as follows:

Danville, Montour county, twenty two cases; three deaths have taken place.

Washingtonville, Montour county, one case.

Lewisburg, Union county, eleven cases, all in one house.

Riverside, Northumberland county, two cases; Sunbury, one case; Pottsville, one case; Shickshinny, one fatal case; Philadelphia, one case.

All the above cases have been traced directly to Danville. The local physicians have failed or refused to recognize the true character of the disease, as it had existed more than a month before the state board of health discovered it.

Harrisburg, one fatal case; Mohn's store, Berks county, one case; Sinking Springs, Berks county, one case; Pittsburg, four cases.

The disease has disappeared from Reading, Tyrone Forges, Williamsport and Wilkinsburg. All precautions are being taken as regarding vaccination, isolation and disinfection.

A PLEA FOR GIRLS.

So much depends upon the education of girls that the mother who gives serious thought to the matter will at once recognize the importance of carefully supervising the daily life of her young impressionable daughter.

Music and nerve will not grow strong if indoor amusements are the rule. Embroidery and sewing are very well in their way, but it is absolute cruelty to compel a growing girl to sit in a chair for an hour or two and industriously apply the needle.

There is no reason why girls should not take part in some of the outdoor sports that give to their brothers such robust constitutions.

Health, unless built on a solid foundation, is a base counterfeit; therefore, mothers should insist upon the formation of habits that tend to strengthen both nerve and muscle.

The reading of sensational literature should be strictly forbidden, as it has a tendency to make girls morbidly sentimental and self-conscious, and finally renders them incapable of appreciating high class reading matter.

It is a bad plan to check or repress a girl continually. Health, vitality and exuberance of spirits go hand in hand. Instead of trying to subdue a nature of this description, encourage walking, running, horseback riding, lawn tennis, hand ball, swimming and general gymnastics and the result will be a healthful and well-balanced physical development.—Prairie Farmer.

THEY WANT A NEW MAN.

Howard, April 16, 1894.

MR. EDITOR: There has been some talk here on the judgeship question and our people are somewhat divided. There is a strong temperance sentiment here and, while we are republicans out and out, there are many who would like to see a good, square temperance republican presented to the people as a candidate. These men feel that neither of the candidates who have presented their names for the support of the party, squarely represent this sentiment. Clement Dale, Esq., has many friends here and, if he would allow his name to be used, would receive a strong support with a more than equal chance of receiving the support of our delegates at the county convention. He is known to be an earnest, faithful republican, always true to the best interest of the party, and, while not a crank on the temperance question, yet a man who has always acted up to the full standard of an upright, temperance and christian principle; a lawyer of ability and character, who never has felt it to be his duty to present a petition for license to the court, although it must have been greatly to his advantage, in a money point of view, to do so; showing that he valued principle more than worldly gain. Such a man would make a Judge that all good men would delight to honor. A man who while standing unflinchingly to the letter of the law, would interpret it in the interest of temperance, morality and good order. While we would like to see Clement Dale a candidate, we have no criticism to offer of the men who are now in the field; for whoever is the candidate of the party this fall will receive a great deal more than the usual majority given to a republican candidate in this borough and township, for the friends of Mr. Dale here are republicans, and propose to give the whole republican ticket a full and cordial support. I do not know, Mr. Editor, how the idea of presenting Mr. Dale as a candidate for this high office strikes you, or the people of your town. I have not consulted Bellefonte about the matter, nor the lawyers at the bar, but if you disagree with me and Howard should present Mr. Dale as a candidate, it would not be the first time that the third town in old Centre has locked horns with the county capital. Ten years ago, as you will remember, we presented the name of John G. Love; therefore, if Mr. Love should now be nominated, and Howard township and Borough should present Mr. Dale, we may reasonably claim that we are not more than ten years behind the times.

OLD TIME REPUBLICAN.

FIFTY-SEVEN YEARS OLD.

The mark of another milestone has been added to the life of Mr. Isaac Thomas, of Thomas street and he now lacks but three years of being three score. Tuesday was his fifty-seventh birthday and his family, as a surprise to Mr. Thomas, invited his friends, about forty in number, around to spend the evening. To say that Mr. Thomas was surprised is putting it mildly; he was completely bewildered. But it did not take long to enable him to regain his usual self-possession and enjoy the occasion as much as any of those present.

Mr. Thomas was the recipient of a large number of presents among which was a gold headed cane, a large chair, a silk umbrella and many others just as useful. An elegant supper was served after which the older ones of those present enjoyed a couple hours of pleasant conversation while the younger members of the party tripped the light fantastic to music furnished by Miss Ohnmacht on the piano. All in all it was a most enjoyable occasion and all felt sorry when the time come to bid each other good night.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

Thos. James Lee and Carrie B. Munson, both of Philipsburg.

Corney Blair, of Lock Haven, and Ethel Wallace, of Milesburg.

W. H. Smith, of Spring Mills, and Annie E. Wagner, of Martha Furnace.

W. H. Frain, of Altoona, and Mary M. Frank, of Madisonburg.

Frank Wilbur, of Lewisburg, and Annie May Weaver, of Potter township.

William Marks, of Snow Shoe, and Mary E. Curtin, of Wallace Run.

—Tuesday evening Bishop N. S. Rulison was in Bellefonte and assisted the rector of the Episcopal church, Rev. Wright, in the holding of confirmation services. These services are very beautiful and impressive. The following named were confirmed on Tuesday evening: Mr. J. N. Neubauer, Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds, Mr. Strickler and sister, Mrs. McGinness, and Misses Anna Bartley and Mary Loneberger.

THE COKE STRIKE.

Everything Was Peaceful Yesterday as Far as Known.

Connellsville, Pa., April 11.—When the trial of the strikers charged with complicity in the murder of Superintendent Paddock, at the Davidson coke works come up, the defense will be set up that the fatal shot came from the pistol in the hands of Superintendent Call, who it is alleged, was immediately behind Mr. Paddock and firing at random. All is reported quiet along the Youghiogheny this morning but peace is not expected to continue longer than the severe snow storm now prevailing. The plants along the Mount Pleasant branch are in full operation. The plants south of this place are in partial operation only.

It is given out by President Barrett's friends that he is actively engaged in reorganizing the strikers, and that when he has everything in readiness he will make an attack on all of the plants in the region at the same time. This idea, they claim, will prevent the sheriffs from doing effective work for the protection of the men. Another of Barrett's plans is to meet the workingmen while on their way to work before they got on the company's property and compel them to go home.

Scottdale, Pa., April 11.—The idle men at Weaver and Morroll marched past the Trotter and Leisenring works of the H. C. Frick Coke company at noon to-day. The men at work refused to quit and openly stated that they would not strike until other operators granted the prices now being paid under the sliding scale. The strikers passed peaceably on.

Uniontown, Pa., April 11.—Up to 1 o'clock this afternoon Sheriff Wilhelm and his force of thirty deputies have succeeded in restraining the strikers from stopping any of the men working at Leisenring No. 2, the first plant visited. More strikers are gathering and a battle may occur. Deputies are still being sent to the front as fast as they can be secured and armed.

When the mob reached Leisenring they were dispersed by sheriff Wilhelm, after considerable trouble. During the excitement the sheriff, who weighs over 200 pounds, fell over an embankment and broke his right arm.

Sheriff Wilhelm reports the region quiet to-night, but is overrun for requests for deputies as a result of the Youngstown trouble this morning.

There may be more rioting in the region to-morrow, but every effort is being made by the operators and deputies to be ready for rioters and no faith will be placed in the peaceable persuasion the strikers talked about in the conventions.

A WESTERN TORNADO.

Emporia, Kan., April 11.—Later news from the tornado in Coffee county says the storm came up from the southwest and whipped around into the north. Most of the damage was done by winds at the turning point. The following damage has been reported: On Big Creek the Presbyterian church and a school house was wrecked; N. Blane's house and barn were blown down; Dan Sullivan and George Lapsley had houses destroyed; every building on William Stanley's farm was swept off. The Hamp den school house was badly damaged. One church, one school house and three houses southwest of Burlington were completely destroyed and ten others damaged. One woman, Mrs. Blanck, was badly injured and her house completely wrecked. Captain Taylor's horse barn and sheds were blown down and six horses had to be killed. At J. E. Weaver's farm, two miles from Burlington, the house was blown away and the barn blown half a mile and wrecked into kindling wood.

TEN MEN FEARFULLY BURNED.

Pomeroy, O., April 11.—A terrible accident occurred this afternoon at the steel plant of King, Gilbert & Warner, at Middleport, two miles below this city, by which ten men were fearfully burned by the upsetting of a mass of molten metal. Four of the injured will die. The list of injured Bartnett, Frank S. Burney, Edward cousins; Bartnett, Frank; Burney Edward; Cousins, William, will die; Gray, Orland, will die; Haydon Jack, will die; Becks, Stephen, will die; Phillips, George will probably die; Steele, George; Winemar, Arthur, Wilson, Jesse.

The men were preparing to pour a large vessel containing 9,000 pounds of molten steel when the apparatus for moving the metal broke, precipitating the molten mass into the pit where about sixty men were at work.

THE M'COY MURDER TRIAL.

Waynesburg, Pa., April 11.—The trial of John Eisminger, charged with robbery and murder of Huckster Samuel McCoy, will be called to-morrow. New developements have come to light in the statement of John Johnson, who was convicted of larceny and taken to the work house in January. Johnson states that a week or two before the murder Eisminger asked him to join him in robbing and killing McCoy, saying that one bullet would do the work and they would get $300. Eisminger also wanted him to assist in robbing Mrs. Hartzell, the keeper of the toll gate east of Waynesburg.

A GIRL BURIED ALIVE.

Cresco, Ia., April 11.—The body of a 15 year old daughter of J. Luckist was exhumed here a few days after her burial, upon suspicion that she was not dead, but under the effect of an anaesthetic a dentist had given her. The surmise proved correct. The glass in the coffin was broken and the corpse was found face downward. The girl evidently died of suffocation.

EVERY DAY SOLDIERS.

Another horrifying illustration of the perils that beset firemen in the ordinary course of their duties has been afforded in the fire at Milwaukee, in which nearly a dozen people were killed, eight of them firemen. The disaster was a good deal like that of the cold storage warehouse at the world's fair in its details. The firemen were on top of the building, trying to direct the streams of water into the heart of the flames, when the roof gave way, and they were plunged into the seething furnace. Some of them were not destroyed at once, but actually roasted to death, pleading for the help that could not be given.

It does not appear that there was any particular carelessness. The casualties were a result of the fearless methods of fighting fire that are always pursued by American firemen, and the drop into the awful pit of death was something that may be the fate of a fireman on any night that he goes out to do his duty. If he escape injury or death it is his good fortune; if he be maimed it is a chance he takes, and he does not complain; if he be killed his widow and children must take it as the fortune of war, and submit with the best grace they can.

It may be thought it would be better to take chances on the burning down of a building rather than allow men to venture into places where there is such awful peril. The roof of a building that is a raging mass of fire inside is a place that no one but a fireman would dare to approach, much less walk on, and it is strange that the heroic nature of the service performed by these men is not often appreciated or commented on till some such tragedy as that at Milwaukee calls attention to it.

Still, there is no help for it. Like a great battle that ends in victory, so many men must perish to accomplish the end, and firemen must regard themselves as soldiers, taking all a soldier's perils.

HOW LED PENCILS ARE MADE.

In the manufacture of lead pencils the graphite is first ground with water between French burr wheels until it is sufficiently fine and even, three or four weeks being sometimes required. The paste is then dried in pans for about twenty four hours, broken into small pieces, and ground again to an even consistency. It is then mixed with clay, the proportion of clay and graphite determining the hardness of the pencil. This mixture is then forced through a cylinder perforated at the lower end with a hole the size of the finished lead. The paste emerges in the form of a long, string like spigetti, which the operative breaks off in lengths of about two feet, and arranges in grooves in a horizontal board.

If the finished leads are to be used in pencil cases, the strings are cut off in proper lengths with a knife. They are then dried naturally for some time, and afterwards roasted in an oven, being finally polished by rubbing against each other in a shaking tray. The leads for use in a wood mounting are unpolished. The wood is well glued; then the leads are covered with mucilage and placed in the grooves, and covered with another strip of wood, the pencil thus formed being placed with a number of others in a tightly clamped iron frame, in which they dry. The pencil is then finished by a revolving knife, which trims the wood and leaves it ready for the polishing and varnishing, which are done by hand.

A YOUNG GIRL'S LIFE.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS.

The Story is the Same, No Matter What Her Station In Life May Be.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

No matter whether she walks to her daily toil or rides in her carriage in the park. No matter whether she is one of the millions or one of the few thousands.

Whatever her station in life may be, she is subject to the same physical laws, and suffers in proportion to their violation.

Girls' over sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle the physician. They withhold what ought to be told.

Thousands have found health and comfort through the counsel of Mrs. Pinkham. If you are sick, write her at Lynn, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves the young girl from the danger resulting from organic disturbance, such as suppression or retention of menses or irregularity. It cures displacement of the womb and all forms of disease arising from derangement of the organ. It is a remedy for woman, given by a woman.

What will cure the mother will cure the daughter, as their organism is the same, and governed by the same laws.

Get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound today from your druggist, and begin a new life.

OUR ANTIPODES.

Poverty and Crime in the Southern Hemisphere.

Vancouver, B. C., April 11.—the latest files of the Australian papers received by the steamer Arawa contains little else than sensational accounts of burglaries and labor troubles. In all the colonies, the burglars have organized themselves into a standing army and in Sydney and in Melbourne they have been making night sorties. In New South Wales, South Australia and Victoria, last month, 337 burglars were captured red-handed and brought to justice. John McKay, 80 years old, of Melbourne, shot and killed a burglar, who broke into his store. Twenty three burglars were reported shot by householders.

The unemployed in South Australia and Victoria are becoming desperate. They applied to Premier Patterson and Sir George Dibbs in deputations of over a thousand. Dibbs replied, "Don't come bothering me; I have kept you long enough; you will not break stone for a living, then starve." The deputation returned to the city and camped in the park. They were ordered off, refusing to move, over a hundred were put in prison.

Adelaide has a mad man of Jack-the-Ripper breed who successfully eludes the police. He seizes unprotected women and stabs them in the throat with a dagger. Eight women have been stabbed but none fatally.

The Australian colonists in Paragway are in a desperate condition, Many have written home pleading with their friends to send them money to come back from a place of desolation and death. The strong have united themselves against the weak, women are insulted openly, and many cold blooded tragedies have occurred. Those who have money have banded themselves together and have driven the poor out of the settlement. Names are signed in newspapers in Australia to prayers for help.

BODIES THAT DID NOT DECAY.

Not until 1826 was the litter of ages removed from St. Andrew's cathedral, when the government of the day had the grace to make an end of that crying scandal. Shortly after the place had been put to rights, a body of local antiquaries were minded to open a certain turret that looks out on St. Andrew's bay. They went in one day, says the London Saturday Review, and pulled down certain stones in the wall; and where there was room to admit the body of a man one of the party squeezed in his head and shoulders, and all of him, in fine, but his feet. Suddenly these became quite rigid, and his friend, pulling him out, found that he had fainted.

While he was being attended to a second man peered into the black hole in like manner, and he, too, was pulled out in a very ill way. Finally a professor of the United college forced his entire person into the cavity, and did not faint; but presently reappeared with the corpse of a woman in his arms, from which the life seemed to have gone but that hour. The turret was now fully explored; found 12 bodies decked as at a feast, and all of them untouched of decay. The professor on the instant sent off to the lord advocate asking what course he should take. The answer came to close it up immediately if he would avoid prosecution. And this was done and the matter hushed up.

But within the last few years two of those present at that strange interment were surviving, and they told certain of the modern excavators their story, which indeed, there was documentary evidence to support it. So once again, and at night this time, the turret was secretly opened up. Two things were now established. The first time was the truth of what the search party had alleged for their discovery so many years before; and the second was the cause of what they had seen. For there is a certain soul or a certain atmosphere which preserves dead bodies from decay. It exists at Milan, and it is now known to exist nearer home. At a certain point from St. Regulus tower all the dead that sleep beneath its shadows are lying now as they lay on their deathbeds.

AN OUTING FOR EDITORS.

Harrisburg, April 11.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the State Editorial association, held at the Lochiel hotel yesterday, the question of the summer outing of the association was considered, and Asbury Park, or a point near to that place, was agreed upon. The outing will take place from July 2d to 6th, during the time the National Editorial association will be in session at Asbury Park. Secretary Thomas was instructed to make the necessary arrangements, and was also requested to notify the legislative committee to arrange for legislation relating to advertising to be presented to the next legislature. It was understood that an attempt would be made to secure the passage of an act providing that all laws shall be printed once in every paper in the state as soon as signed by the governor, as is done in several states.

EIGHT MEN DROWNED.

Philadelphia, April 11.—The steamer Albert Smith, from Philadelphia for Providence, was driven ashore during the storm. Eight men were drowned. The snow storm which began yesterday still rages furiously. Telegraph and telephone wires are prostrated in all directions, and trains are badly delayed in the mountain region of Pennsylvania. Ten to eighteen inches of snow has fallen and mining is generally suspended. In Delaware the peach and small fruit crop is completely ruined.

THE P. O. S. OF A LECTURE.

Quite a large crowd was gathered in the Patriotic Order Sons of America hall in the McClain Block on Thursday evening to hear the lecture of district president Rev. Maynard, of Lock Haven, who talked on the subject of the Order. The evening's programe was opened as are all regular meetings in accordance with the form generally used by the order. After prayer by Rev. Maynard J. C. Meyer, Esq., made the opening address of welcome delivered in his usual happy style.

Rev. Maynard was then introduced and spoke at length on the object, the advantages and the growth of the P. O. S. of A, During his address he departed somewhat from the original topic to make quite a tirade on Catholicism and the fact of nuns being allowed to teach in public schools. Rev. Maynard's remarks have been very much criticised and it would probably have been better and his lecture as a whole more appreciated, had he left unsaid some few things to which he gave most pronounced utterance.

At the conclusion of Rev. Maynard's lecture addresses were made by Hon. John G. Love, Clement Dale, Esq., and Gen. D. H. Hastings, and the meeting closed in regular form.

THE SNOW STORM.

Our readers will be interested in knowing where the great snow storm came from. It developed in Kansas last Sunday morning, and on Monday morning was central over Iowa and Illinois. Monday night it was central near St. Louis, and on Tuesday night central over Michigan and Ohio, where it was still raining last night. It started in as a rain storm. Coming east it came in contact with the cold and warm air conditions of the north and south. The storm moved off the New England coast yesterday, the storm area being confined to New England, New York and Pennsylvania. Last night it was raining in some sections of West Virginia and Ohio.

The conditions are to be followed from the west by generally clearing and warmer weather. The maximum temperature in Colorado, New Mexico and Arkansas ranging from seventy-five to eighty degrees. The snow storm had its beginning at 9.24 on Tuesday morning and continued for thirty-seven hours.

FOR BICYCLE RIDERS.

In Berks county, last week, the judge decided that pike companies can collect toll from bicycle riders. The toll-gates now collect one cent per mile for bicycles.

It was also decided by the courts that bicycles have no right on the side walks. Right, of course. It has also been decided that push carts or wagons have no right on the side-walks, which are only intended for pedestrians.

A person driving on a public road must always hold in to give persons trying to cross a chance to do so with entire safety; neglect herein subjects the driver to a fine, as it is his duty to be on the look-out.

—The Millheim Journal man must have been dreaming when he wrote a local saying that "Governor Robert E. Pattison was a guest of General Hastings at his home in Bellefonte a few days this week." SAILED THE SEAS 38 YEARS.

One of His Experiences.

For thirty-eight years Capt. Loud followed the sea, most of that time as master of a vessel, and upon retiring from the water was appointed by the Secretary of the United States Treasury to superintend the seal fisheries in Alaska, which position he held five years. He relates one experience as follows:

"For several years I had been troubled with general nervousness and pain in the region of my heart. My greatest affliction was sleeplessness; it was almost impossible at any time to obtain rest and sleep. Having seen Dr. Miles' remedies advertised I began using Nervine. After taking a small quantity the benefit received was so great that I was positively alarmed, thinking the remedy contained opiates which would finally be injurious to me; but on being assured by the druggist that it was perfectly harmless, I continued it together with the Heart Cure. Today I can conscientiously say that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Heart Cure did more for me than anything I had ever taken. I had been treated by eminent physicians in New York and San Francisco without benefit. I owe my present good health to the judicious use of these most valuable remedies, and heartily recommend them to all afflicted as I was."—Capt. A. P. Loud, Hampden, Me.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Cure are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price. $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, express prepaid. They are free from all opiates and dangerous drugs.

HUNTINGDON PRESBYTERY.

What Was Done at the Second Day's Session in Clearfield.

Presbytery opened the business session with the reading of a call from Altoona Second church to Rev. H. H. Stiles, of Pittsburg. Salary $2.000.

The committee on church erection recommended that $200 be granted to the church of Benvinsdale for the erection of a building.

Calls for the pastoral services of Rev. Thomas Catchep from the churches of Winburn and Kylertown were read, found in order and placed on the table.

A call from the congregation of Alexandria for the pastoral services of Rev W E Stewart promising him a salary of $1,000 with use of parsonage was read, found in order and accepted by him.

James W Roller, T A Appleby, Peter Cameron, H L Book, Albert Thompson, D. W. Woods and W C Pomeroy were nominated for lay commissioners to general assembly. The tellers reported the election of Rev. D H Campbell, Rev. George Elliott and Rev R A McKinley, D. D., as commissioners to general assembly. Alternates, Rev. J F Diener, Rev. E H Mateer and Rev. George Chapelle.

Invitation for the presbytery to meet were given by the churches of Altoona First; Reedsville and Shade Gap. The presbytery returned thanks to Altoona First and Shade Gap for their invitations and accepted the invitation to meet at Reedsville. The time for the meeting was fixed for Tuesday at 2 p. m., instead of 11 a. m. as heretofore.

Mr. James Roller and Mr. T A Appleby were elected lay commissioners on the first ballot and Mr. H. L. Book on the third, with Messrs. Cameron, Woods and Pomeroy as alternates.

A call from the Curwensville church for the pastoral services of Rev. D. E. Craighead, promising him $800 per annum with use of parsonage, was read, found in order and placed in his hand and was accepted by him.

The congregation of Beulah extended a call to Rev. J. E. Giffen promising him $800 with use of parsonage which was also read found in order and accepted by him. May 5, at 2 o'clock was the time fixed for Mr. Giffen's installation at Beulah church and the following committee was appointed to perform that duty: Rev. H T Means to preside and preach the sermon; Rev. William Gemmil to charge the pastor and Rev. William Prideaux, to charge the people.

The missionary sermon was preached on Tuesday evening by Rev. Joseph Brown Turner, from the texts, "Come Over in Macedonia and Help Us;" "Go Into All the World and Preach the Gospel to Every Creature" and "The Love of Christ Constraineth Us."

Rev. W H Decker spoke upon the topic: "The hope of the church." The mission of the church was to save the world—at least as much of it as were willing to be saved. This implied self-denial. It implied activity and activity especially among the young. Young people probably not better than others but the fact remains that they will be here when older ones are gone. He gave figures to show that the large proportion of those who are accepting Christ are less than 20 years of age. Of 1,600 in the audience at a child's meeting in Chicago, 1,400 had accepted Christ before the age of 20 and 180 of the remainder before the age of 30.

The report upon young people's societies was read by Rev. H. H. Henry of Birmingham. The membership of the Christian Endeavor Societies the Presbytery now numbers 3,880, including 681 Juniors.

While the cry all over the land has been "hard times," "retrenchment" and "economy," the Christian Endeavor society has raised more money than ever before. The total contributions for the year amount to $3,343. Of this sum, $1,510 has been given for missions and $1,833 for other objects of benevolence. Among the largest contributions, the Bellefonte society heads the list with $676, inclining $605 for missions, Clearfield, with the help of the Pine Grove society, stands second, with $507, including $290 for missions. The Petersburg society raised $222, including $200 for parsonrge lot. East Kishacoquilas society raised $210, including $200 for the new home church.

The committee on home missions reported through Rev. J. C. Kelly recommending certain amounts for the different churches unable of themselves to sustain pastors and the report was accepted. The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Huntingdon presbytery reported contributions during the past year from thirty-five auxiliaries and forty eight bands which compose this society amounted to $3,875,-79. Last year the contributions amounted to $4,230. This increase was due to legacies received amounting to $875.

Dr. D. K. Freeman reported for the committee on presbyterial missions. During the first year of our Presbyterial mission work, ending October, 1886, to our surprise and gratification, the churches contributed for this cause the handsome sum of $1,135.97. In 1887 they gave $1,-225, and in 1888 it was $1,377. The following three years the sum contributed was nearly the same. The highest amount given in any one year being in 1892—$1,-628.60. The whole amount disbursed up to last October—eight years—being nearly $11,000. The presbytery has aided in larger or smaller amounts thirty three churches, nearly half of our entire number. This fund has encouraged the organization, and assisted in the support of the new churches of Iryona, Coalport, Winburn, Hyndman and the Third, Broad Street and Juniata in Altoona.

The Sabbath school report was read by Rev. D. H. Campbell: Number of officers, teachers and scholars, 12,012; scholars, 10,768; average attendance, 6791; members received into the church, 453.

A resolution of thanks to the congregation of the Clearfield church, to Dr. McKinley, the choir, etc., was adopted by a rising vote.

The committee on leave of absence reported the names of those to whom leave of absence was granted, and the report was adopted. An invitation to the presbytery to meet at Bellwood on the second Tuesday of June was accepted. The presbytery, after singing the Long Meter Doxology, adjourned.

PROVIDED WITH A HOME.

Oscar Scholtz, the boy who had such a thrilling experience on Tuesday night by riding from Harrisburg to Huntingdon on the projecting end of a spring on a vestibule car attached to Chicago and St. Louis express, will have a comfortable home for some time to come. Mr. Jerome Rooney, who conducts a truck farm just below Hollidaysburg, read the account published yesterday about the lad, and being in Altoona, he ascertained that Scholtz had been taken to the mayor's office.

Yesterday afternoon he called on his honor and submitted his proposition, agreeing to give the boy a home. The mayor said he favored Mr Rooney's scheme, and added that he would be glad if he would take the boy to his home. Mr. Rooney had a talk with Scholtz and he agreed to live with him. If the latter will work until next fall he will be fitted out in a new suit of clothes, given a ticket to his home in Denver, Col., and provided with some spending money besides. He will find his benefactor a pleasing companion and a man who will care for him as his own child. Both departed last evening for Hollidaysburg, the boy in high spirits at the prospects of having a good home.

MOSHANNON ITEMS.

Miss Ida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Conaway, died on Friday and was buried Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Beightol visited friends in Moshannon this week.

Jackson Walker, of Clarence, moved to Moshannon last week.

Messrs. Abe and Jerry Hanscom visited Gillantown last week.

Mr. James Culver has improved his property by putting a new wire fence around it. It looks very good.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mayes, of Clarence, were visitors in Moshannon on Friday.

Mrs. Thomas Tubridry has been on the sick list for quite a while. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

SHOOTING AT GLEN RICHEY.

Two Russian miners living at Glen Richey went out shooting last Sunday, and one of them, Peter Bremier, shot the other Jos. Getchen, in three places. The wounded man is still living, and, it is said, will recover. Constable Reuben Bloom brought Bremier to jail on Monday morning. The prisoner's story is that the shooting was an accident, but his neighbors in Glen Richey say that it was the result of an old feud between the parties. The case will be tried at May Sessions. One thing is plain, that the incident is a warning not to go shooting on Sunday.

VOTE FOR MEENEY.

The Philadelphia Press is offering a gold watch for the most popular ball player in the State League, the question to be determined by ballots which are printed in the Press daily. Now here is a chance for Bellefonters to show their appreciation of an old-time favorite. As every sportsman knows Pat. Meeney an old standby of Bellefonte's, is this year playing with the Harrisburg team, and in the few initial games already played has done excellent work. Now let everybody in Bellefonte who can concentrate on Meeney and vote for him and help to make him the most popular player.

NO MORE BIG STAMPS.

Assistant postmaster G. W. Rees informed the writer that the last two-cent Columbian stamp, of the consignment for the Bellefonte postoffice, was sold on Wednesday and hereafter stamp buyers will get only the regulation, old-fashioned kind. What a relief it will be to the man who does much letter writing to know that he will not have those blanket sheet stamps to lick and lick and lick.

LEG TO BE AMPUTED.

James Coldren, formerly of Centre Hall, who has been employed at Hastings, accidentally injured the broken leg he sustained some months ago, through a severe wrench of it a few days ago, that the doctors think it will have to be amputated below the knee as a result of his last injury.

WILLIAN BRYSON ESQ.

Heart Trouble Causes His death Very Suddenly.

The community was shocked this afternoon when the sad announcement was made that William Bryson, Esq., a well known lawyer of this city, had died suddenly at 2 o'clock from heart trouble with which he had been ill for several weeks. When he first took sick his condition at once became critical, but a change for the better set in and he had so far recovered as to be able to have his friends take him out driving, and strong hopes were entertained of his complete restoration to health.

Yesterday he was not so well, and during the night was very restless and to-day he experienced very unfavorable symptoms. At 2 o'clock this afternoon while sitting up in bed, the death messenger came and in an instant he dropped over lifeless.

The deceased was one of Philipsburg's most highly esteemed citizens and his death causes profound sorrow. He came to this city in the fall of 1886, about the time of the death of his brother, James Bryson, Esq., continuing the practice of law which his brother had followed here for several years. He came here from Bloomsburg, and previous to his coming to Philipsburg he represented Columbia county in the legislature two terms.

About three years ago he married Miss Schroeder, of Reading, a sister to the wife of Col. Keller, of Bellefonte, who, with a little son, Willie, aged about two years, survive him. The deceased was twice married, his first wife having died a number of yeas ago. A daughter to his first wife, aged about 20 years, survives and resides in Ashland.

Mr. Bryson was a member of the Royal Arcanum, joining the organization on May 4, 1892. He was a robust, stately, fine looking man, shrewd lawyer, very affable in his manner, and had a large circle of friends.

The sorrow stricken wife and surviving relatives have the sympathy of the community in their great loss.—Philipsburg Journal of Thursday.

THE LUTHERAN SOCIAL.

Thursday evening was a red letter evening for the Lutheran social at the home of ex-sheriff Ishler. The house seemed to be full from cellar to garret, and even out in the yard, and passers-by could well recall "The sound of revelry by night." The committee sold everything they had prepared for the occasion. The success of the evening was the sale of prepared boxes. One, containing a cake of soap, sold as high as 45 cents. These boxes were all prepared by different persons, none knowing the contents of any of the boxes except the one prepared by themselves. Of course, some were more valuable than others, and the sale was therefore the cause of much merriment, but profitable to the social. The next on the program was the McGinty Circle, which cost five cents per member, each being entitled to a prize, which was awarded after the speech of the evening by Harvey S. Hoshour, which was listened to with much interest, as it was his first public effort, and "Jack Horner" was the theme. Everybody appeared to be enjoying themselves while the treasurer was quietly increasing the finances, which exceeded twenty dollars. These socials are growing in interest and profit. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mulbarger, on East Curtin street.

RELATIVE VALUES.

A Kentucky jury has just given us its idea of the proportionate value of a man and a horse in that state. A woman who sued a railroad for killing her husband and her horse got $150 damages for her horse and one cent for her husband.—Ex.

Some Kentucky husbands are not worth a cent, even. Now, for instance, what's the matter with Breckenridge?

On Monday evening Mr. A. Sternburg accompained Mr. Meek to Philadelphia where Mr. Sternburg will accept a position in the customs department of the port. He gets a position worth about $2 per day. Mr. Meek has secured several positions, thus far, for Centre county people.

THEY'RE ALL HOMESICK.

Letters received from individual members of the family of Rev. W. A. Houck contain the information that they are each and everyone quite homesick and long for the sight of a familiar face from Bellefonte. Of course, it is only natural to suppose, that after a five years' residence in a place like Bellefonte, they would become homesick no matter where they went. But then this is only another instance to prove that there is no place like Bellefonte.

FOUR AT A TIME.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin is authority for the statement that the wife of Conductor Cusic, of the Beech Breek railroad, gave birth to four children on Tuesday night—two girls and two boys. Conductor Cusic and family came here about four months ago, and reside on Edwin street, between Hepburn and Elmira. The conductor is entitled to a big promotion on the Beech Creek, as he will need an increase of salary.

Since the above was put in type we see by this morning's Williamsport paper that the above story is not correct. And further than that the editor of the Gazette and Bulletin has caused the arrest of the young man who, it alleges, furnished the information to the reporter on which the above item was based. The young man had a hearing and testified that he did not directly furnish the information, that it was in a hotel where a party of young men were discussing families and speaking of occurrences like the above and that the reporter either misunderstood him or else jumped to conclusions. There will be a further investigation to find out who was at fault for the appearance of the item.—Ed

HIS SHORTAGES GROWING.

Washington, Pa., April 11.—W. C. Rodgers, who raised a check from $45 to $545 and succeeded in getting the cash, appears to be guilty of other criminal acts in this community. His accounts as treasurer of the Excelsior Building and Loan Association are short over $1,000, it is thought, although the investigation is not yet completed. Besides that, James Doyle, of East Washington, will be out $225, which he and Rodgers borrowed on a joint note, to purchase an oil lease, and did not, and which Rodgers said he had paid back. Rodgers is believed to be in Canada.

A SERIOUS WRECK.

Occurred Near Wilkesbarre Yesterday Morning.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 15.—A serious railroad accident took place at Silver Brook, near Hazleton, at noon to-day. A Pennsylvania railroad freight train ran into a Lehigh Valley railroad express train, killing one man and injuring many others. The following is the list: Killed—Patrick Daley, of Milton, Pa. Injured—Engineer Kimmell, of the freight train, eye cut, back and head bruised; Conductor Arthur, back injured: Brakeman Brosius, arm broken and internally injured; Fireman Art Brown, one leg broken and otherwise injured; they all reside in Sunbury, Pa.; Joseph Reigel, of Manch Chunk, express messenger, legs and back hurt; a newsboy whose name is not known, from Reading Pa., who was relieved by the regular boy, cut on head, hands and various parts of the body: Brakeman Biddle, of the express train, body seriously bruised and back wrenched. Passengers injured—Philip Dornstatter, of Shenandoah, head and arm cut; Mrs. Winterstein, of Shenandoah, face cut and hip injured; an unknown Hungarian woman, of Yorktown, body considerably bruised; John Schrack, of Audenreid, hip and legs injured; John Pinthop, of Audenreid, head bruised; Messrs. McElhenry and Lennon, liquor merchants of Philadelphia, latter's face badly torn and otherwise injured. Former sustained severe injuries about the back. It is said the wreck is a complete one and one of the most serious that has ever occurred on the Delano division of the Lehigh Valley railroad. The cause was due to an oversight of the Pennsylvania freight crew. The latter left Pottsville in the morning with a train of mixed cars, including box cars, gondolas and cattle cars. There being but few trains running on Sunday, the freight had a clear track and was making fast time, and the engineer did not see the obstruction ahead of him until it was too late, and a moment later both engines came together with a crash, driving the forward car into the tender of the valley engine and demolishing it. Gondolas were driven through box cars, and the engines were both wrecked. There were nearly 100 passengers on the train. They were thrown about in all directions in a most violent manner, but all escaped being injured except those mentioned above.

The boiler heads of both engines were jammed into each other, causing a chance for an explosion, but the trainmen who had soon recovered drew the fires of both locomotives, thus saving any further trouble.

Daley, who was killed, had been riding on the freight train and was sitting on the end of a gondola and was crushed to death in a horrible manner.

A TENNESSEE MURDER.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 15.—Two aristocratic families of Sevierville, in this state, have been brought into deepest trouble by the indiscretion of the son of one family and the daughter of the other. For a year or so John Millendore has been devoting himself to Mary Montgomery daughter of Captain Robert Montgomery. The girl's parents demanded an explanation, and she named Millendore as her betrayer. The father of the girl took his shot gun and went after the young man. He met him in company with his father. "Marry my daughter, or I will kill you," the girl's father said. Young Millendore said he would not. The other raised his gun. The boy's father put his hand to the muzzle of the weapon to save his son. The discharge blew his hand off and killed the young man as well.

THREE BODIES RECOVERED.

Buffalo, April 15.—Parts of three trunks of men were found in the ruins of the American grape sugar fire. The heads, arms and legs were gone, and there was not a bit of clothes or anything near the mass of blackened bone and roasted flesh which might lead to identification. The charred remains were removed to the morgue. The firemen will continue to pour water into the ruins so that a search for the other nine missing men can be made without delay. The probabilities are that some of the victims were entirely cremated, and that there never will be found the slightest trace of them. This afternoon committees were appointed by the Red Cross society to see the mayor, the health commissioner and the fire underwriters, and demand that a search may be started immediately for the remains of the believed to be in the ruins.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Scranton, April 15.—The arrest of a boy named William Walsh has led to the discovery of the authors of the wholesale thievery that has been in progress here during the past six months.

Walsh to-day made a complete confession, implicating two other 12 year old boys, Fred Young and Thomas Davis, whose names had not been given out. These boys have been able to carry out their thieving under the guise of newsboys, in that way being able to enter offices from which their occupants had stepped for a few minutes without being suspected. From one office $360 in cash was taken, from another a purse containing $12 and articles valued a great deal more, and from another 600 two cent postage stamps. The lockers of the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium had been broken into and money and clothing stolen from the members. By this capture the police have cleared up fully half the alleged burglaries that have occured in this city during the past few months.

MEN WANTED.

The great want of the age is men; men who are honest, sound from center to circumference, true to heart's core; men who will condemn wrong in friend or foe, in themselves as well as others; men whose consciences are as steady as the needle to the pole, men who stand for right if the heavens totter and the earth reels; men who can tell the truth and look the devil right in the eye, men that never flag nor flinch, men that have courage without shouting, men in whom the currents of everlasting life run still, deep and strong; men who do not cry nor spoil their voices to be heard on the streets but who will not fail nor be discouraged till judgment be set in the earth; men who their message know and tell it; men who will not lie; men who are not too lazy to work nor too proud to be poor men; who know their places and fill them; men who are willing to eat what they have paid for. —Ex.

A CHURCH WAR STILL ON.

Carlisle, Pa., April 16.—The war between the Esher and Dubs factions of the Evangelical church still continues and is attracting considerable attention throughout this section. Papers were filed this afternoon in an equity suit in the court of common pleas between Revs. Butler, Young, McGan and Henry Hasler on the one side, and Revs Messinger, and Detwiler and Messrs. Cromleigh, Binkey and Hertzler on the other side, for the recovery and possession of the church property in this city. The plaintiffs ask that the defendants may be enjoined from excluding the plaintifs from officiating or carrying out their duties, or from occupying the parsonage and now ask for an injunction.

—And the trout fishermen are still at it.

—Next week is court week, and the attorneys are polishing up their "briefs."

After Typhoid Fever

A Running Abscess Discharges Pieces of Bone.

All Hope Given Up—But Hood's Sarsaparilla Gives Perfect Health.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I had been a sufferer for nearly three years and had doctored during that time, but without avail. I had given up all hope of ever recovering my health. At times I would rather have died than lived, but now I am thankful that I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for I am now as sound as a dollar. I was

and an abscess formed on my right side above the fourth rib. The strange part about this was the fact that it did not open for six months after it appeared, although it pained me continually. After it broke it became a running sore and I was compelled to wear a bandage all the time. The doctors told me that the only way it could be cured was to have an operation performed and have the rib taken out, claiming that I had bone disease, inasmuch as four pieces of bone had been discharged from the sore. Before giving myself up to the doctors I decided to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial, although I had but little faith that it would do me any good. I used it strictly according to directions, and before I had used three bottles I

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Began to Feel a Change, and by the time I had used the fourth bottle the sore on my side had healed. It is now nearly three months since the eruption closed and I have not the least fear of it ever bothering me again. Hood's Sarsaparilla is certainly a gem among medicines. It has cured me and it will cure others." W. H. HEFFNER, Alvira, Pa. ¢

DEATH OF GEN SLOCUM.

He Passes Away in His New York Home on Saturday.

New York, April 15.—General Henry W. Slocum, the noted soldier, lawyer and politician, died at his Brooklyn home soon after midnight Friday night. He had been ill with pneumonia several days and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Slocum was born in Onondaga county, N. Y., sixty-six years ago. He went to West Point, and later served three years as lieutenant. Then he resigned his commission and for five years practiced in Syracuse, also going to the assembly and being elected county treasurer.

When the war broke out Slocum went to the front as colonel of the Twenty-seventh regiment, New York volunteers. He was badly wounded at Bull Run and was made a brigadier for his bravery. His conspicuous part in the Seven Days' battle at Malvern Hill won him a major generalship. By the death of Mansfield, at Antietamhe was made a corps commander At Gettysburg he commanded the right wing and he shared the honors of the great conflict with Meade, the commander, and Hancock.

Later he was put in command of the department of the Mississippi and took part in Sherman's march to the sea, commanding the Army of Georgia.

The war over, General Slocum returned to law practice, settling in Brooklyn. He was defeated for secretary of state in 1865, but three years later was sent to congress. He was long a trustee of the Brooklyn bridge and president of the Crosstown Railway company. When Cleveland was nominated for governor in 1882 General Slocum was a prominent candidate against him. A year later he was elected congressman-at-large from the state. That was his last public service. In 1888 he was a candidate for commander in chief of the Grand Army, but was defeated.

General Slocum was erect and soldierly in appearance, nervous and decided in action, with a clear cut, fine face and a courteous manner. He was a good speaker, clever in debate and persuasive in argument.

ANIMALS AND WEATHER.

The tortoise is not an animal one would naturally fix upon as likely to be afraid of the rain, but it is singularly so. Twenty-four hours or more before rain falls, the Gallapagos tortoise makes for some convenient shelter. On a bright, clear morning when not a cloud is to be seen, the denizens of a tortoise farm on the African coast may be seen sometimes heading for the nearest over hanging rocks; when that happens, the proprietor knows that the rain will come down during the day, and as a rule it comes down in torrents. The sign never falls. The pre-sensation, to coin a word, which exists in many birds and beasts, may be explained partly from the increasing weight of the atmosphere when rain is forming, partly by habits of living and partly from the need of moisture which is shared by all. The American cat-bird gives warning of an approaching thunder storm by sitting on the low branches of the dogwood tree (whether this union of the feline with the canine is invariable the deponent sayeth not) and uttering curious notes. Other birds, including the familiar robin, it is said, give similar evidence of an impending change in the weather.

STRANAHAN'S OPPORTUNITY.

Harrisburg, April 14.—The Democratic state committee will meet here Monday next and elect Deputy Attorney General James A. Stranahan state chairman with more unanimity than has characterized the past meetings of the committee. Mr. Stranahan, who is a forcible writer and quite an eloquent talker, is expected to sound the key note of the coming campaign in his speech of acceptance.

He proposes to immediately begin the work of getting the party in shape for the fight. Headquarters will be established in Harrisburg and as the election approaches a branch headquarters may be opened in Philadelphia. An executive meeting of the committee will be held after the election of a chairman at which Mr. Stranahan will outline his views. Those who know his tireless energy and thorough knowledge of state politics predict that he will get the party in better shape than it has been for several years.

THE COKE STRIKE.

Uniontown Pa., April 15.—To-morrow will demonstrate whether or not the strike in the coke region is at an end. At all of the striking plants mass meetings were held to-day, but the proceedings were kept secret. At Lemont part of the strikers decided to go to work to-morrow morning. The strike leaders, however, finally persuaded them to remain out until the strike is settled. Judge Mestrezat has fixed next Tuesday morning for a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus for John McSloy, District President Davis and Secretary Daniel Darby, the leaders of the strike, who are now in jail. Mike Barrett, the present president, is still missing. He will probably be deposed at the meeting called for next Wednesday at Scottdale. The Cambria workmen remain firm in their resolve not to return to work. At nearly all other places work will resume tomorrow morning.

LAID RAILS ACROSS THE P. R. R.

Philipsburg, Pa., April 15.—Catching the Pennsylvania railroad people napping last night, a gang of workmen succeeded in laying rails across the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at Mapleton Junction and ran an engine and two cars across and to-morrow morning will begin running trains to Osceola Mills transferring passengers at Mapleton until an overhead crossing is constructed. The arrival of the first train over the new road at Osceola this morning caused wildest enthusiasm and, notwithstanding the day, the people insisted on the train being run back to Mapleton, which was done.

ARBOR DAY AND THE HOMES.

The belated blizzard, with its snow and sleet and chilly rain, finished its course in season to leave a beautiful Spring day for the ceremonies of Arbor Day. Probably the grouud was not in proper condition in most places for tree planting, hence the wisdom of an alternative Arbor Day two weeks later. On April 27, the second Pennsylvania Arbor Day, the trees which could not be planted Friday should be set out where they will do most good, or, in the language of Governor Pattison's proclamation, "along the public highways and streams, in private and public parks, about the public school houses, around the places of public worship and in the college grounds, in gardens and on the farms."

"Arbor Day and the Home" is the subject of a very suggestive article by B. G. Northop in the New York Independent. There is nothing helps the appearance, the attractiveness, of homes so much as trees. The poorest shanty becomes a picture when enshrined in foliage. The humble homes of the prairie settler in their bareness and ugliness are a blot on the landscape until the young trees planted by these ploneers grow large enough to inclose their dwellings in a bower of beauty. A country home without trees is like a seashore with the sea dried up—a Sahara of loneliness, a desolate waste.

The Arbor Day idea originated, doubtless, in the feeling that something was needed to stimulate tree planting so as to repair as far as possible the rapid forest destruction that is going on. It is aided by the realization that something is needed to relieve the repellant shadeless nakedness of so many of our small towns an villages. The Village Improvement Societies are outgrowths of this latter feeling. Their object is to make the environment of the home—the village—wholesome, beautiful and attractive. They are ardent supporters of tree planting and road improvement.

Would that every small town in Pennsylvania had a wideawake and earnest Village Improvement Association. This grand old Commonwealth. so well endowed by nature, would, if nature were seconded in this way, be made more attractive and worth living in than now.

"GIVE US A LIFT!"

"Do send us down something to help us!" "Those little Pleasant Pellets, you sent before were just what we wanted!" "They helped right where we were weakest!" "Dont send anything else!"

Nature, abused and neglected, does her best to overcome exhaustion and ward off threatening disease, but sometimes calls for help, and knows just what she's about. The system takes kindly to the mild, wholesome influence of Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and often their timely assistance corrects evils which would soon lead to serious results. With the first signal of distress, nature will thank you for remembering her request. Therefore if languid, easily tired, bad taste in mouth, bowels irregular or constipated, give nature a lift by taking Dr Pierce's Pellets. Best Liver Pill made.

A NEW GAME.

Two swindlers have worked farmers in the west recently in a manner truly artistic. It is the lightning rod fake with a government annex. Garrett Homan, a German, was induced to sign a contract to have his barn rodded. The contract was sealed in an envelope by one of the agents who wrote his name on it and handed it to Homan to keep until called for. Homan's family became suspicious and opened the envelope. The day following the agent returned and finding the envelope opened told Homan that he had violated the postal laws, but that they would compromise for $280. A note was promptly given, and four other farmers were caught the same way for from $100 to $500.

IN THE SPRING.

Nearly everybody needs a good medicine. The impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the cold months must be expelled, or when the mild days come, and the effect of bracing air is lost, the body is liable to be overcome debility or some serious disease. The remarkable success achieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the many words of praise it has received, make it worthy your confidence. We ask you to give this medicine a trial. We are sure it will do you good. Read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla, all from reliable, grateful people. They tell the story.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

STRANAHAN IS CHAIRMAN.

Elected at Yesterday's Meeting of the Democratic State Committee.

Harrisburg, April 16.—Eighty one of the eighty six members of the Democratic state committee attended the meeting today. There were comparatively few proxies. J. Marshall Wright, of Allentown, retired as chairman and was succeeded by James A. Stranaham, of Mercer who was unanimously chosen. He made a speech in which he said that he accepted the chairmanship from a sense of duty and asked the co operation of the members He dwelt at some length upon the alleged lapses of the Republican party in the state administration and the hollowness of the cry of "protection for American labor." In conclusion, he appealed to the party to cast aside factional differences and present a solid front to the enemy. The retiring chairman was given a vote of thanks.

Wednesday, June 27, was agreed upon as the time, and Harrisburg as the place, for the next state convention. A resolution was adopted changing the date of the annual meeting of the state committee from the third Monday to the first Wednesday of the third Monday of April.

A new rule was recommended to the next convention for adoption. It provides that vacancies on the state ticket shall be filled by a recalled state convention, if the vacancy occurs thirty days before the election. If within thirty days of the election, then the power to nominate a candidate is vested in the state committee A short executive session was held, when it was declared to be the sense of the committee that congress should speedily pass such tariff legislation as was promised in the last presidential campaign.

Division chairmen were elected as follows: First division, John A. Magee, of New Bloomfield, vice L. E. Shearer; Thomas J. Burk, of Blair, vice W. Fisk Conrad, of the Second; W. J. Brennan, of Allegheny, re elected in the third; Charles Schimmelfing, of Warren, re-elected in the Fourth; Captain W. F. Reber, of Bellefonte, re-elected, in the Fifth; W. C. Gilmore, re-elected in the Sixth; J. M. Garman, of Luzerne, in place J. M. Healy, in the Seventh; R. E. Wright, of Lehigh, succeeds Michael Cassidy in the Eighth; W. W. Carr, of the Ninth, is succeed by R. John Monaghan.

MELLO DIDN'T SURRENDER.

Rio De Janeiro, April 16.—The government is advised that Admiral Mello did not surrender himself to the Uruguayan authorities, but remained on board the Republica. It is said that it was his intention to surrender to the authorities of Uruguay and that he offered to do so on condition that they would not turn him over to the Brazilian government. The Uruguayans were not prepared to give him any such guarantee, and he put to sea in the Republica. General Salgado, with about 400 men, landed from the Republica and submitted to the Uruguayans. The men were unarmed and were nearly all disabled from wounds, illness and hunger.

It is said that after Mello sailed away from the Uruguayans coast he returned to the state of Rio Grande do Sul and attempted to land with his men, but the government troops drove him back and he reembarked and steamed away. His destination is not known. It is reported that the state of Santa Catharina has declared allegiance to the government.

WILL RESUME HIS DUTIES.

Washington, April 16.—Representative Breckenridge, of Kentucky, proposes to resume his congressional duties to-morrow. He is a member of the house appropriations committee, and was an active member in that body until called from his legislative duties to the celebrated trial, which ended on Saturday last. He was about the house for a few minutes to-day. He first went to the appropriation committee room where he spoke with several members regarding the work in hand, and entered the house during the chaplain's prayer. He was looking well. The members of the house made no demonstration when he came in, while none of the members were effusive in their greetings, all whom he addressed received his advances in an apparently friendly manner.

LOST AND FOUND.

Monday's Lock Haven Democrat says: Yesterday Michael Cunningham, of Sugar Run, missed $710 in gold from his residence. He notified Chief Keller of the missing money, which official at once sent the city policemen in different directions for a nephew named Michael Cross, whom Mr. Cunningham suspected. Special Policeman Cummings found the man wanted near the Cunningham residence and lodged him in jail. The young man indignantly denied the charge, alleging that he knew nothing about the money. Last evening a search was instituted for the money and the box containing the gold was found under Mr. Cunningham's barn. The money was undisturbed in the pieces of paper in which it had been wrapped by the owner. This morning young Cross was taken before Alderman Anthony, but no testimony could be presented fastening the guilt on the accused. He was discharged, but was told to leave his uncle's place, with whom he had been working about a year.

ON A BIG TRAMP.

From London to Monterey and Return in a Year's Time.

At 6.30 o'clock Monday evening there arrived in Bellefonte from Lock Haven Vyvian Gray, a pleasant spoken Englishman, who is a party to a unique wager. One evening while chatting with members of the London press association a wager was made that Gray should cross the Atlantic and make his way as best he can, trusting to the hospitality of Americans for boarding and traveling expenses, to Monterey, Mexico, where he is to meet a brother of the president of the press association and then start on his return trip home. On the homeward trip he must raise $5,000 by delivering lectures in various towns and cities, and must be back in England by St. Patrick's day, 1895. If Gray fulfills his part of the agreement he is to receive $5,000 from the president of the London press association and $5,000 from the Daily Telegraph of that city.

Gray accepted the wager and on February 6, 1894, started from Derby, England, and walked 162 miles to Liverpool. In that city he signed as stoker of the steamship Cephalonia and landed in Boston, March 9. On March 17, he started on his long tramp through the United States. He went to Albany, New York, called on Governor Flower, which executive treated him very cordially, thence to Elmira, thence to Williamsport, thence to Lock Haven, and Monday evening he came to Bellefonte and was the guest of Landlord Neubauer, of the Brockerhoff House. He left for Altoona to-day. From that city he will go to Pittsburg, to Cincinnati, to New Orleans, to San Antonio and then to Monterey. Mr. Gray is very hopeful that he will be successful and speaks in glowing terms of the kind treatment he has already received from Americans with whom he has come in contact. He is ruddy-faced, heavily built, and has a pleasing, patronizing air, which is very helpful in ingratiating a man into the good graces of strangers. Mr. Gray says he was accompanied from England by Ira Johnson, a Scotchman, and an Irishman who travels under the assumed name of L'Allegrow. His companions, unfortunately, were incapacitated from proceeding on their journey farther than Elmira, N. Y. Johnson was struck on the head by a bottle being thrown from a car and L'Allegrow burst a vein while walking. It is not likely that they will go any farther on the western trip.

Gray carries with him a book in which he gets the official signatures and seals of borough and city officials through which he may pass. On his arrival on Monday evening he repaired at once to the post-office in this place and had Assistant postmaster G. W. Rees affix his official signature and seal in said book. This is to be used, we presume, as a means to prove that he has made the trip in every particular as per the terms of the wager.

CAPTURE OF JAIL-BREAKERS.

Thad. Delozier, constable of Hastings, effected the capture of the four prisoners who escaped from the Greensburg jail a few days ago, mention of which was made in these columns yesterday. He had been furnished with a description of the men, and, after a close observation, became convinced that these were the fellows wanted, and captured them. If they are identified by the Greensburg authorities, who have been notified and were expected to arrive to-day, he will probably receive the $300 reward offered by the sheriff of Westmoreland county.

The Greensburg Press says that a well-known citizen of that place who returned from a trip to the lumber regions of Cambria and Clearfield counties on Wednesday, had a conversation with two of them—Mattern and Gorman—on Tuesday about a mile from Barker City, but, having left home before the jail delivery occurred, and not having heard of the affair, his suspicions were not aroused.

COKERS DRIVEN OFF.

Women Drive Men From Work at a Cambria Company's Plant.

Connellsville, Pa., April 16.—The Cambria Iron company attempted to start at their Wheeler works this morning, but the men were driven off the yards by the women. The victorious females now declare they will guard the works night and day. The men at the Wheeler and Morrel works met yesterday and decided to continue the strike. All the men at the Mahoning and Atlas works of the Cambria Iron company this morning accepted the new scale and will go to work to-morrow morning. Trouble is expected as soon as they start, as the men Wheeler and Morrel declare they will attack the works before daylight. The company will place a large force of deputies on guard and hope to repel the attack. The Wheeler and Morrell men also threatened to attack the Leisenring and Trotter works this morning, but did not show up. The Frick men are willing to work and the company is prepared to protect them. The Anchor works of the Atcheson works at Dunbar resumed this morning. The men at Wheeler and Morrel are the only men now out, and it is believed they will accept the new scale and go to work in a day or two. All the Frick works are running full except Leisenring No. 2.

"HEY, BILL, STOP A MINUTE!"

Some amusing instances are recited of the very accommodating nature of the trainmen on little insignificant railroads, where the one train a day each way occasions as much excitement along the route as a close election contest. Many of these stories are improbable and few true. One was related to a Harrisburg Telegraph man yesterday as an actual fact, coming under the personal observation of the relator. He was the only passenger on the mixed freight and passenger train on a short branch road not a thousand miles from Harrisburg and everything moved along slowly, but without a stoppage, until a point on the line where the tracks and a roadway ran parallel and close together for some distance. Here a farmer and his four horse wagon were met. Greetings were exchanged between the conductor on his perch in the caboose and the farmer. But the conductor had something weightier to say to his friend, and making a horn of his hands, he bawled out to the engineer: "Hey, Bill, stop a minute!" Very accommodatingly "Bill" applied the reverse lever and the train stopped in its mad career. Then the conductor and farmer had a short chat, exchanged plugs of tobacco, while the Harrisburg passenger leaned back and enjoyed a hearty laugh. Finally the conversation ended, the conductor waved his arms, "Bill" opened the throttle and the train started once again. "We often do that," said the conductor to the passenger, by way of explanation. "It's an easy schedule we have." And the Harrisburger agreed with him.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Newport, Pa., April 16.—A distressing and fatal burning accident occurred at the home of H. B. Miller, in this place, on Saturday evening, resulting in the death of Herman, one of his twin children. Saturday evening Mrs. Miller had them out walking and after returning home the children were left for a little time in a room alone, when they began to play at the fire. Hearing screams from the room the grandmother, Mrs. William Wertz, ran in and found the one in flames. She quickly picked up a piece of garment lying at hand and caught the child in it, smothering out the flames and burning her hands in a painful manner. Everything possible was done for the little sufferer, but he died yesterday afternoon. It is believed that he inhaled the flames, which, as a consequence, would be fatal.

DEATH OF MRS. PACKER.

Widow of the Late Ex-Governor Expires Saturday.

On Saturday morning at 9:15 o'clock, Mrs. Mary Wykoff Packer, the venerable and respected widow of ex-Governor Wm. F. Packer, died after a lingering illness. The funeral will occur to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of her son-in-law, James W. Clarke, corner of Third and Penn streets

Deceased was born March 16, 1812. She was a daughter of Peter Vanderbilt, a granddaughter of Michael Ross, founder of Williamsport, and was the oldest resident of this city born within the original boundaries of the town.

She married Wm. F. Packer in 1829 and was the mother of 10 children five sons and five daughters four of whom survive her, as follows: Boyd C. Packer of Lock Haven; Mrs. Elisha Allis, of Easton; Mrs. John A. Woodward, of Howard Centre county, and Mrs. Ellie B. Eeles, whose husband died in Binghamton, N. Y., on Friday last of Bright's disease.

Several years ago she, by accident, incurred a dislocated kneecap, which, together with rheumatism, rendered her an invalid to her death. During the last three years of her life she was unable to leave the house, and being very feeble the death of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Parker Clark, proved too much for her, and she never recovered from the shock. Her husband was very influential in politics in his day and also possessed marked business ability.

Mrs. Packer in her earlier days attained great social prominence and made hosts of warm and lasting friendships.—Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

A SIGNIFICANT VERDICT.

The verdict of $15,000 against Breckinridge, while not vindicating Madeline Pollard, perhaps, may be accepted generally as a rebuke to his and Col. Phil Thompson's views of the right of men to wreck women without compunction of conscience, if they don't get caught. Madeline Pollard will be held no better, perhaps, than she was held to be before the verdict was rendered, and she may never get a dollar of money consolation from it, but public sentiment and public decency are vindicated.

The Breckinridge Thompson theory that brutality is a sufficient answer to an allegation from a weak woman that a grievous wrong has been done her doesn't go. It would be unjust to charge that theory upon the state of Kentucky, but there can be no doubt that Kentucky people feared they would be held responsible to some degree, at least for it. It would be unjust to them, to any people, to hold them accountable in a sweeping way for such grossness. It was one of the most shocking features of a shocking case, and the jury did well to condemn it forcibly.

If any further good fruit may be expected from this verdict beyond rebuking the Breckinridge Thompson view of morality and honor, it should be a deterrent influence in similar cases, if there be any similar, against flaunting the disgusting details in the face of the public. It would seem to have been the design of the defense to make both parties to the suit so bad that no relief could possibly be given to the plaintiff. That was the attitude assumed by Breckinridge in his testimony. His plan was to confess everything charged against him and more too, but to evade the consequences by trying to show that the woman was worse than he. The brazen tactics did not win, bulldozing did not win, and saying "the woman was to blame" did not win.

That is as it ought to be, and though a demand be made for a new trial, or petition for an appeal, Col. Breckinridg's political constituents and his church associates should endorse the verdict by relegating him to that level to which he lowered himself by his testimony in his efforts to degrade the woman still further than he had already done.

A HAPPY COMBINATION.

Of the most potent and active properties of the whole vegetable kingdom, is that which makes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription so pre-eminently above every other so-called woman's restorative in the market. Don't stop short of the best! Don't experiment with worthless imitations, when the world acknowledges no superior to the original, reliable, and only guaranteed remedy for the happy restoration of suffering and debilitated woman. Costs nothing if it don't do just as recommended. See guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

SWIFT VENGEANCE.

Savannah, Ga., April 13.—B. D. Edmonson, a prominent citizen of Brooke county, killed his nephew, John Yates, last evening. The uncle was in a field and heard his wife scream. Running to the house he found his nephew had committed an assault upon her. Yates dashed to the front door, but was shot down in his tracks. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Something About This Superb Publication, Written by the Men Who Fought the Battles and Illustrated by War-time Pictures.

Widespread interest has been excited among war veterans and all classes of citizens by the magnificent record of the Civil War which is now being distributed by THE PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER. This is the "Century War Book," a work which has attained the reputation of being the most accurate, complete and artistically beautiful history of the war ever published. When originally issued several years ago it sold at from $22 to $28, but THE INQUIRER is offering it to its readers in weekly parts at a merely nominal cost each week. The text of the work is made up of contributions written by all the great participants in the war on both sides, including Grant, Sherman, McClellan, Longstreet, Johnston, Hill, Howard, Beauregard, Kirby Smith, Law, McMahon, Fitz John Porter, Burnside, Rosecrans, Sickles, Cox, Lew Wallace, Imboden, Pope, Horace Porter, Early, Pleasonton, Fry and many other leaders.

The main feature, however is embraced in the portraits, illustrations and maps, over 900 in number, all executed in the highest artistic style, and many of them made from rare war-time originals. The descriptions of all the great battles are written by the leading Generals who fought them, and fully illustrated, very often by sketches made at the time. The paper and print are superb and fully in keeping with the usual work of the Century Company, which publishes the work.

This superb history is published in twenty parts and THE PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER has just begun the distribution, it being the intention to give out one part each week until the series is completed. To obtain this valuable work all that is necessary is to cut out a coupon from THE THE INQUIER and send it together with ten cents to INQUIRER Coupon Department, 1109 Market street, Philadelphia.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

On Friday evening of this week, the 20th inst, there will be an enjoyable entertainment in the P. O. S. of A. hall in Unionville, by the Grammar School, taught during the winter, by W. Emerson Karns. It will include three very amusing plays, recitations and tableaux and also plenty of good music. During last January an entertainment was held by this school which was so successful that almost a sufficient sum was netted from it to purchase the "Encyclopedia Brittanica," bound in half Russia. The entertainment next Friday evening promises to surpass the former one. "The Joke on Squinn," a negro farce, is something none should miss. The committee of arrangements is Miss Bertha Cleaver, Miss Olive B. VanValin and W. Emerson Karns.

CHANGE OF PLACE.

The Central Pennsylvania anniversary association of the P. O. S. of A. will hold its convention and parade July 4th at Emporium. Philipsburg was originally selected as the next meeting place, but the officers of the association having been notified by the members of the order at that place that they will be unable to successful handle the affair this year, Emporium has been accorded the honor of the next meeting place, and will no doubt get up a celebration that will be a credit to the town and the order.

THE COMMONWEALERS.

Coxey's Army After a Hard March Reaches Addison.

Addison, Pa., April 12.—A sheriff's posse of twenty-five men met the army of peace as it crossed from Fayette to Somerset county today and to-night the emissaries of Somerset county law are encamped about the commonwealers' camp here, ready to care for any law-breakers. Consequently this town is aroused from the dreary lethargy of a mountain hamlet and the streets are being walked over more than for many a day.

It was another weary tramp for the sore footed followers of Coxey's fortunes, but they walked with a will over the fourteen miles of muddy pike, reaching this town at 5 o'clock.

The departure from Chalk Hill was not noteworthy in any particular. The road was a hard one for the teams, and as the wagons were heavily ladened they traveled very slowly. Steep hills were plenty by noon, when Smithfield was reached and a halt called for dinner. Smithfield was not greatly excited over the army, but turned out nearly all of its 150 residents to see it. After hard tack and coffee had been served the men were turned loose to do as they pleased, while Coxey and Brown addressed the people. When they finished their addresses Sheriff Hoover, of Somerset, announced himself and said he had come to look after the property of the people along the route, and proposed to accompany the command to the Maryland line. The sheriff had about twenty-five deputies with him.

By 2 o'clock the army was again in motion. Progress towards Addison was slow, but the march was enlivened by an escort of Addison horsemen and a band who joined just outside of Smithfield. At 5 o'clock the weary column came straggling intocamp with banners displayed and the band blowing its liveliest.

Camp Jefferson is established in the barnyard of Jasper Augustine, an influential citizen. He left the men sleep on the hay in his barn. The men got a meal of bacon, bread, coffee and potatoes to-night. They spent most of the evening about town. The saloons were closed to prevent any rows.

General Coxey remained behind the army today, supposedly to attend to some business matters. He took the first train from Smithfield for Cumberland. The nature of his trip cannot be ascertained.

Citizens of this town donated seventy-five loaves of bread and a small quantity of coffee. It is stated by some here that Sheriff Hoover's mission with the army is to look out for coke strikers wanted in Fayette county. Some of them are reported to have joined to-day.

THE BRECKINRIDGE CASE.

Washington, April 12.—The Pollard-Breckinridge case will go the jury on Saturday and a verdict will probably be rendered that day, for jurymen have no liking for being locked up over Sunday, as the jury in this case undoubtedly will be if its members fail to come to a conclusion before midnight. To-morrow morning ex-Judge Wilson will begin the closing argument for the plaintiff which will be the last argument in the case. He will continue all day and end his speech sometime Saturday, when Judge Bradley will charge the jury.

Major Butterworth concluded his argument for Colonel Breckinridge this afternoon and the court then adjourned until to-morrow. There was an absence in his speech of the dramatic passages of yesterday, when he would look at the defendant and tell him he was guilty of the foulest crimes if Miss Pollard spoke the truth. To-day he was milder, although at times he approached the sensational in his language and gestures. The plaintiff was not present, but she will probably be in her usual place tomorrow to hear her counsel, Judge Wilson, reverse the portrait Major Butterworth painted.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

There are so many scamps around all the time bent on swindling farmers that the safest plan is for the farmer not to trust strangers who have something to dispose of. Every scheme laid finds some farmer for its victim. Sometimes the bait is held out by one of his neighbors who is mean enough to lend himself as a stool pigeon for an outside swindler. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been stolen from farmers in this state alone by these scoundrels and their home helpers.

In our county alone the swindles practiced upon farmers amount to upwards of $60,000 within the last dozen years. Farmers should mark these scamps of the past, and will be watchful in the future against new ones, with new dodges and new swindles; we have had them and their stool pigeons in our own midst, and their victims are still suffering under the swindles of several years back.

Farmers, keep your eyes on these scoundrels, they come with honey on their tongues.—Centre Reporter.

MONDAY IN 1894.

Monday is the prominent day in 1894; Monday holds the record. The year begins and finishes on a Monday; hence there are fifty-three. The great Scotch removal term, May 18, is on a Monday; grouse, black game and pheasant shooting all start on Mondays, and of course, Hogmanay, 1894, is on a Monday. It is an article of faith in some rural districts that when the year opens on a Monday there will be a severe and confused winter a good spring, windy summer and a rueful year, in which there will be much sickness. The year 5655 of the Jewish era commences on Monday, 1st October, 1894, and all the bank holidays are on Mondays.

THE FUTURE OF FARMING.

Editorially the Norristown Herald says: The outlook for the agricultural interest of the country is one of the most frequent subjects of discussion just now at farmers' institutes and other similar gatherings.

With grain at its present low prices, there is very little encouragement to go on in the old way of raising wheat and corn and selling the product.

The successful farmer will be the man who can adapt his efforts to the requirements of the business and so diversify his products as to reap a substantial reward. It is very evident that the raising of wheat or other grain cannot be made profitable on the Atlantic coast. Those who desire to engage in such competition should seek the prairies of the West, where, with the opportunity to employ labor-saving machinery to the best advantage, they may be able to obtain moderate returns for their capital and intelligent oversight of the farm.

The only hope for the Eastern farmer is in his adaptation to circumstances. He must get out of the old ruts, and abandon the idea, as many intelligent tillers of the soil have already done, of farming as did his father or his grandfather. The times have changed within a half century, the general construction of railroads bringing the great West to our doors, as it were.

But there is a field for the intelligent farmer, even at the present day. He should diminish the size of his farm, where it is large, by selling off a portion, and engage in the raising of such products as command a ready sale at remunerative prices.

It is impossible to suggest any rule that will hold good in all localities. Intelligent discrimination will enable each individual to judge what particular product or what diversity of products is suited to his locality. This it should be the aim to determine, and once settled, that aim should be pursued with persistent effort. There is a successful career open to farmers, even in the East, if they can adapt themselves to the necessities of the situation.

HELD IN $600 BAIL.

Philadelphia, April 12.—L. H. Taylor, a prominent stock broker, was today held in $600 bail for court for assaulting James Gallagher and breaking his nose. The assault was the outcome of a financial dispute between the men, and was committed yesterday after a referee had heard testimony in the case. Gallagher brought suit against L. H. Taylor & Co., for $20,000, which he claims was due him out of profits he had made in deals and which, he contends, was promised him "in a few days." Taylor's defense is that Gallagher did not order his account closed and that advances in the market wiped out all of his $69,000, he having left $49,000 additional with the firm as margin, with the exception of $69,-70 which they are prepared to pay him.

—On Monday afternoon Snow Shoe sportsmen had great sport shooting at glass balls for a prize of a $250 diamond pin offered by Mr. John G. Uzzle. The balls were thrown from an ordinary spring trap at a distance of thirty yards. The best score out of twenty-five shots was to have the pin and our friend, Mr. Will Haynes, now sports the diamond. There were only four contestants and their records were as follows: Will Haynes, 23 out of 25; George Uzzle, 22 out of 25; Dr. Burd, 21 out of 25; John G. Uzzle, 16 out of 25.

A BIG FIRE.

Several Men Seriously Injured by Jumping—The Loss Will Reach a Million.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 12.—At 7 o'clock to-night flames were seen breaking out of the front windows of the American grape sugar works, on Scott and Chicago streets, one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country. A general alarm was promptly responded to, but when the firemen reached the scene the entire structure was a mass of flames. Sixty men were employed at night on the top floors of the works. How many of these escaped is not known at this hour (10 p. m.)

Among the employes seriously injured by jumping from the windows of the eighth floor are: James Young, head bruised and badly burned; William Maurice, both legs broken, will die; Wm Lawndowsky, badly cut and burned; J. Stern, badly cut.

Lieutenant Schraeder, of the fire company No 1, was badly hurt by falling walls, and Joseph Webster, pipeman No 1, was badly burned and had a leg broken. At 10.30 o'clock the fire had spread to the public fish market and the wholesale meat district and was not yet under control. The total loss will exceed a million dollars.

MIDNIGHT—The fire is under control. The lotal loss is about $1,200,000 on which there is an insurance of about $500,-000.

All but twelve of the sixty men employed in the building at night have been accounted for. It is feared that they are in the ruins. The fire was caused by an electric light wire on the top floor.

CREATED A SENSATION.

Washington, April 12.—The resolution reported by the committee on rules to fine members for absenteeism and for not voting when present a genuine sensation in the house. The widest diversity of opinion exists as to the merits of the resolution. It may be said in a general way that a majority of the democrats favor the resolution, but the statement requires some qualification. It is not what a good many members like, but they feel that some action ought to be taken which will bring about a quorum and they will support any proposition that may accomplish that result, even though the proposition itself be distateful to them. One member from the extreme south, who is well known for his strict construction of all questions of a constitutional character, said this afternoon that he would vote for it, but that he "should hold his nose at the same time."

"The eastern wing of the democratic party are outspoken in their opposition to the resolution. No republican, so far as can be learned, will support the Catching resolution and the claim is made to-night that a sufficient number of democrats can be found to vote with the republicans to defeat it.

IN MEMORY OF JEFFERSON.

Boston, April 12.—A dinner, commemorative of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, was given at the Quincy house this evening by the Young Men's Democratic Club of Massachusetts. Nearly 200 members and guests were present. The leading speakers were Hon. J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture; Hon. James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency; Hon. John Russell, Leicester, and Hon. Charles S. Hamlin, of Brookline, assistant secretary of the treasury.

At the close of the dinner, the president announced that resolutions of approval and sympathy with Minnesota democrats had been passed and they would be sent to that state.

VIGOROUS HEALTH for MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay the postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

SHAPE & SIZE OF A SEMINAL WEAKNESS

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

THE AGE TO ENTER COLLEGE.

In his recent report of the condition of Yale University, President Dwight makes a suggestion that will be found interesting. In discussing the question as to the shortening of the college course he thinks that the time sought to be saved could be gained by having young men prepared at an earlier age than now. He says: "If the youth, by beginning at the proper early day, can be made ready for the entrance into college, as he ought to be, at the age of 17, there is abundance of time before him for his four years' course of general education within the college walls, and for all that the professional school asks for after the bachelor's degree is attained."

If this suggestion were followed young men would be graduated at an average age of 21 years, and after giving three or four years to a professional school would be prepared to enter active life at 24 or 25 years of age. As the average is now from two or three years older, some of the best and most productive years in a young man's life would be saved by following President Dwight's plan. He cites the facts that in England and on the Continent of Europe the study of Latin is begun from four to six years earlier than in this country, and that the sub-committee of the American National Educational Association has recommended that the study of the modern languages be begun at the age of 10 years.

Any plan that will add to the usefulness of American young men deserves careful consideration. But before it is concluded to be best to have young men prepared for college at the early age of 17 years, it should be settled by careful investigation whether such a plan would not be forcing the brain at the expense of the general health. Every observer knows how large a factor health is in the work of life. The experience of many college graduates proves, not only in their own case but in the cases of many others, that the health has been injured, the intellect stunted and the future usefulness impaired by the forcing process. Bright scholars who gave every indication of a brilliant future have been cut off early or had their careers shadowed by the wretched health which came of too early and too hard study.

American and English college students cannot be compared without a good many qualifications. The great body of English students come from well to do families, and before entering college they have nothing to do but to prepare themselves for a university course. In this country, perhaps a majority of the students are young men who had to do something to aid themselves financially before beginning their college career. This compels many to wait until the age of 20 or even older. There should be also a certain maturity of mind to enable a young man to obtain the discipline a college course can give, particularly now when so large a freedom in choosing his studies and directing his course is given the student. All these factors should be taken into consideration before it is decided that young men be prepared to enter college at so early an age as 17 years.

DELEGATES DIVIDED.

Scottdale, Pa., April 10.—The delegate convention called for this place today met at 11 o'clock with about twenty delegates present. There are several from the northern end of the region, and there is a larger proportion of English speaking delegates than at any previous convention. Mike Barret and Alexander Markey are here to conduct the meeting.

The delegates are greatly divided to the course to pursue. Some want the strike declared off, others want a compromise on the Frick scale, while still others want to enforce the demands already made. Markey says the conditions are encouraging, the men are better organized than ever and success is assured. If the strike is not declared off now, officers will be elected and committees appointed, and Barrett will undoubtedly be president.

The operators are jubilant over their success in starting their plants and claim to have more men at work than on any previous day.

General Beaver was not responsible for the story that he would be a candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination in the Twenty-eighth District, and he has set the matter at rest by declaring that he will not be a candidate. All that has been said in favor of such a nomination is not less true, however. It is a district which can be carried by the Republicans, and we are satisfied it will be if the proper care is exercised in the selection of a candidate. It is a time, too, when any Republican whose candidacy would be likely to be an advantage to the ticket should be willing to make whatever personal sacrifices may be involved in accepting a nomination.—Press.

THEY WERE FRUSTRATED.

Wichita, Kan., April 10.—A band of robbers made an unsuccessful attempt last night to hold up a Rock Island train at Pond Creek, Oklahoma territory. Their plans were frustrated by the bravery of the express messenger. Two men, whom it is believed got on the front platform of the express car at Pond Creek, climbed over the tedder when about four miles from that place, and with pointed revolvers compelled the engineer to stop the train. Four other men then appeared and blew open the end of the express car with dynamite, the express messenger, Jake Harmon, having refused to comply with their demand to open the door. As one of the robbers stuck his head through the opening made in the end of the car Harmon shot him dead. This unexpected attack caused the robbers to retreat, and the other trainmen coming to Harmon's rescue, another robber was wounded and captured. The others escaped on horses. The train then backed into Pond Creek, bringing the dead and wounded robbers. They have not been identified. The sheriff's posse has started after the bandits.

NEW JERSEY TOWN ELECTIONS.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., April 10.—The entire republican ticket was elected.

In Jersey City the republicans elect five out of six aldermen.

In Peterson the democrats made some gains, while in New Brunswick the result was about even, the democrats electing three.

In Elizabeth the republicans elected the mayor by an increased majority.

At Rahway mixed results prevailed.

In orange the republicans made a clean sweep, electing every candidate.

In East Orange the republicans made a clean sweep.

In Camden the republicans won a complete victory, electing their entire ticket by increased majorities.

At Gloucester the democratic ticket won by 500 majority. At the last assembly election the democratic majority was 1,500.

Elections were held in the cities of New Jersey today. In this city the republicans made a complete sweep, carrying the board of aldermen and all the city offices.

In Newark the republicans were also successful, electing a republican for mayor by 5,000 majority.

EVERY COW HAS A LIMIT.

Ex-Gov. Hoard, of Wisconsin, says that every cow is born with her certain limit in her percentage of butter fat. One cow is born with a 3 per cent limit, another with 4 per cent, another with 5 per cent, and another with 6 per cent. A cow that has an undeveloped limit can be developed by feeding, but the cow that has gone to the extent of her limit cannot be made to go a single ounce further. Feed her high and she will grow fat, but will not exceed her limit of butter fat. She will give you 50 pounds of milk per day in June and it will make a pound of butter; she will give you 25 pounds of milk in October and it will make a pound of butter. The water has decreased which increases the per centage of solids but not the absolute amount.

The situation in the coke region, while still reported as threatening, has not changed except in the direction of a gradual resumption of work. The strikers are still out and still in an ugly mood, but a sufficient number of men are willing to work, if protected, to keep the ovens running. The courageous and sensible action of the Sheriffs of the two counties has strengthened the law-abiding elements of the disturbed districts until it is now very probable that in an attack upon any of the important works the strikers would be worsted. While it is never safe to predict what a maddened mob of ignorant men led by demagogues will do all present indications are that both strike and rioting are practically ended.

IF Coxey's Army grows no faster than it has done yet the Washington authorities need give themselves no concern about what will happen when it reaches that city. Big crowds have cheered the motley crew on their march through Western Pennsylvania, but they haven't enlisted. The army has already entered upon the mountain section of its long tramp less than five hundred strong. It is hardly possible that the new recruits will outnumber the deserters until a more thickly populated section is reached, which will not be for some days. Coxey's tramp and his tramps have alike failed to fire the popular heart.

A FEW REMAINS.

There are still a few of the giant pines remaining which used to tower above the other trees of the forests of Pennsylvania. The Lock Haven Democrat says that among the timber rafts which have floated down the west Susquehanna to that place this year are several sticks over 200 feet long. But the great spars which used to be sent down the Susquehanna and the Delaware are so few and far between that they are rated as curiosities.

DEATH AT AARONSBURG.

On last Thursday Mr. John Guiswite, an old and well-known citizen of Haines township, died at his residence near Aaronsburg, aged 71 years, 10 months and 29 days. Deceased leaves several children, his wife having preceeded him to eternity about three months ago. The remains were interred at Wolfe's Chapel on last Sunday forenoon, when services were held by Revs. Wolf and Brown.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address. F. J. APRIL PROVERBS.

April snow breeds grass.
Snow in April is manure.
A cold April the barn will fill.
After a wet April follows a dry June.
April cold and wet fills barn and barrel.
April and May are the keys of the year.
Thunder storm in April is the end of hoar frost.
Whatever March does not want, April brings along.
April borrows three days from March and they are ill.
A cold and moist April fills the cellar and fattens the cows.
A dry April not the farmer's will; rain in April is what he wills.
When April makes much noise we will have plenty of rye and hay.
When on the 24th rye has grown so high as to hide a crow a good harvest may be expected.

When April blows his horn,
'Tis good for hay and corn.

THE COMPLEXION OF A CHINESE.

Is not yellower than that of an unfortunate individual whose liver complaint has assumed the chronic form. The eyeballs of the sufferer assume a saffron hue, there is dull pain in the region of the organ affected, the tongue is coated, breath sour, sick headaches usually but not always occur, and there is sometimes dizziness on arising from a sitting posture. Constipation and dyspepsia are also attendants of this very common ailment, always in its aggravated form, liable to breed abscesses of the liver, which are very dangerous. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters wholly eradicates it, as well as the troubles complicated with it and which it originates. In chills and fever, a complaint which always yields to the Bitters, the liver is seriously involved. This fine alternative tonic removes costiveness and indigestion, rheumatic, nervous and idney trouble and debility.

EDWARD T. TUTEN.

Local Department.

—The rolling mill of the Valentine Iron company started up this morning to complete orders received some time ago.

—The month with an "r" in it is rapidly drawing to a close, and lovers of the savory bivalve had better eat while they may.

—The Philipsburg papers are now publishing letters for the Board of Trade of that place, showing up the many advantages of that town.

—Joseph Rightnour is ahead. He maintains that he caught a trout on Monday fully three feet long. This is the first time known that whale inhabited Spring creek.

—A charter was granted in Harrisburg on Saturday to the Lock Haven Electric Railway company, and now that concern is ready to proceed with the erection of its road.

—Mr. John T. Johnston is having his residence covered with a new roof. Before he is through with the job he will have other improvements made which will greately enhance the property in various ways.

—Painters are hard at work covering the residence of Mr. L. T. Munson, on Allegheny street with a fresh coat of paint. It will make a great improvement on the appearance of the building when completed.

—Mr. Edwin F. Garman has been enhancing his property on East Linn street by tearing away division fences and putting down new boardwalks. Ed. always believes in keeping up with the times in everything.

—Next Saturday, April 21st, the ladies of the Evangelical church will give an oyster and ice cream festival in the Sunday school room of the church on Willowbank street. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

—Ex-county commissioner A. J. Griest, of Unionville, has a fondness for all of Bellefonte only the coal holes in the pavements. He had a little experience in one of these on Monday and the meeting was not to his satisfaction.

—The vacant lot of ground lying between East Linn and Lamb streets, just west of Mr. F. C. Richards' property, has been ploughed up and will all be planted in potatoes. This will be farming on a small scale within the borough limits.

—The remains of the late William Bryson, Esq, whose death occurred in Philipsburg on Thursday were taken this morning to Reading for interment. Funeral services where held at the family residence on Front street Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

—Mr. Harry Frysinger, of the Magnet, claims to have caught the largest trout thus far pulled out of Spring creek. He states that by actual measurement it was just eighteen inches long. Harry had probably measured the trout with a magnifying glass.

—Complaint has been made at this office of farmers in the surrounding vicinity allowing horses to run loose on the public highway. On Sunday an animal attacked a foot passenger and, but for timely assistance, might have done serious harm. Farmers should be very carefnl in this respect.

—Owing to the plant not paying the Williamsport Republican has suspended publication permanently. All the other daily papers in that city which were suspended by a strike of their employees, have again resumed publication with printers received from New York and Philadelphia.

—Mr. Mitchell Lieb has lately come in to possession of an oil portrait of Sheriff John Mitchell, who was high sheriff of Centre county in the year 1819, and officiated at the execution of the famous Monks. The portrait was sent him by Mrs. Dr. Dixon, of Pittsburg, and is a much prized relic.

—The Valentine furnace, since its resumption, has been running along splendidly and the amount of metal now being turned out is about one hundred tons daily. It is of an extra superior quality, too, which proves very encouraging to the management. It is to be hoped they may find a ready market for all the product they can turn out.

—What do you think of the new coat of paint which now adorns the fountain in the diamond. The angel in white looks all right but the base in yellow we didn't think looked right until Capt. S. H. Williams informed us that they were Colonial colors, then we concluded they were beyond criticism. At all events, it looks much better than it did in its garb of rust and dirt.

—The Magnet says: The present farm on which Hon. Leonard Rhone resides has been in possession of the Rhone family one hundred years this summer. Consequently in May or June of the present year there will be a centennial celebration of the family, to take place on this patrimonial possession. We will inform our readers further about this interesting event as the day of the celebration approaches.

THE BOROUGH FATHERS.

Only Enough of 'Em Present to Transact Bussiness.

Council convened Monday evening with members Miller, Gerberich, Williams, Bush and Garman present. President Miller called the council to order and clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previons session which were approved as read.

Mr. James Harris appeared to protest against the throwing of ashes down over the hill from Spring street to Water street. The parties complained of were Rev. Elliott, George A. Bayard and Mrs. Rodgers.

Mr. Wm. Shortlidge appeared before council to inquire on what claim for back water rent the bill against him for fifty dollars had been placed in the hands of the borough solicitor for collection. The claim, as represented by council, was for the use of water prior to the making of a contract between the borough and McCalmont & Co. Mr. Shortlidge stated that they had been very much misrepresented before the council. He then presented a statement of just how much water had been used in the period of time referred to.

Clement Dale, Esq., presented the book of water contracts as ordered by council.

A communication was read from the Bellefonte school board relative to the fact that the high constable was not enforcing the ordinance relative to cows being prohibited from running at large, as they were doing considerable damage to the terraces in the school house yard.

The Street committee reported pregress. The water committee reported that temporary privilege was granted the Hale estate to raise the dam in Spring Creek just four inches; also that the fountain in the diamond had been painted.

Regarding the complaint of the School board the borough solicitor was instructed to notify the chief burgess and also the bondsmen of the high constable that that official was not performing his duties faithfully and that unless he did so his bond would be sued out.

The Nuisance committee reported a number of nuisances throughout the borough, which the council directed them to have abated at once. The committee also recommended the adoption of the rules and regulations as presented by the Board of Health a few weeks ago, and that $100 be granted the board for a year's expenditures. Council accepted the recommendation and approved the same on vote.

The complaint of James Harris was referred to the nuisance committee with instructions to act.

The book of forms for special water contracts was given to the Water committee with instructions to make contracts with all persons and firms desiring the same.

The complaint of McCalmont & Co. was held over until the next meeting night.

The Street committee requested the privilege of having a crossing put down across Penn street on the South side of East High street. So ordered.

The business of the council being concluded the following bills were approved and council adjourned:

THEY GOT THE BOOKS.

The long-looked for books, "Pennsylvania at Gettysburg," a correct history of the battle of Gettysburg and the part taken in it by Pennsylvania, has at last been issued and is now ready for distribution. The Senators and representatives have been sent their quota and, of course, Senator Meek, of this place, has received his, and thereby hangs a tale. Each Senator is allowed eighty books for distribution in his district. The books arrived on Saturday and this morning Mr. Philip Dale, hearing of this fact, went to the Watchman office and inquired for a copy of the work. Now, fortunately for Mr. Dale, neither Mr. Meek nor George were in and Miss Meek, not knowing anything about any arrangement of distribution, acknowledged the books were there, supposing it was right, had the box opened and gave Mr. Dale the two volumes. Mr. Dale started up town triumphant in his possession and meeting W. H. Musser, told him about the books. Forthwith Mr. Musser came down and asked for "his books." He, too, got them. Soon after another old soldier who had seen Mr. Musser appeared in quest of copies. But by this time George was in the office and he, knowing more about how the books were to be distributed put a shut down on the promiscuous giving. It was a good thing he appeared when he did, ot by this time the books might all have been gone.

DEATH OF MRS. J. H. M'GARRAH.

A telegram was received in this city at 6.30 Monday evening conveying the sad intelligence of the death, at York, of Mrs. James H. McGarrah. The deceased was about 60 years of age. She was the mother of the wife of Rev. J. Ellis Bell, pastor of the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in this city, as well of J. P. McGarrah, of Williamsport, and Olin K. McGarrah, of Philadelphia. Her husband was for four years presiding elder of the Altoona district, afterward being located at First church, York, in which town the death occurred, and now at Bellefonte, to which place he was assigned by the last conference. The deceased was an earnest Christian woman, a devoted wife and a fond mother, and the announcement of her death will cause sorrow to many in this county. The funeral arrangements are not yet known.—Altoona Tribune.

DID YOU GO FISHING?

Monday was the first morning for trout fishing, and it proved a very poor morning, so far as the waters were concerned, but so far as the fishermen were concerned and the stories they told, this morning was not at all behind other like mornings in years past. By actual count, at an early hour, there were just eighty-six men and boys along the creek from Jackson's mill to the new depot. And this might be taken as the very small part of all who were out. But the catch, oh, my! The fishermen toiled and toiled and toiled; they resorted to every known way to entice the spotted beauties, but the wary tribe deserved their cunning this morning. They wouldn't bite, they could not be coaxed to. However, this did not alter the reports one iota. Every man who was out had a big string—in his eye, or creek rather—but mighty few in his basket. Will Garman said he caught nineteen, but then Will probably saw double or treble. Robert Hunter and Charles R. Kurtz went on the early train to Axe Mann and fished until the next train to Bellefonte came along without even seeing a fish then they came home. They were both ashamed to get off at the depot in this place, but went on down to the round house, and at last accounts they were hunting a hiding place until after dark when they could slip home unobserved.

But they are all having lots of fun; the fishing is extraordinarily good, it is only the catch that is deficient. However, the enthusiasts all live in hope that with lower water and more favorable weather, they can make up for what they did not get today.

ANOTHER BAND CONCERT.

The Bellefonte Band is progressing finely. The instruments are all filled by parties who are competent to do their parts well. The organization has now more material than it has instruments. It is their aim to make it one of the best reed bands in Centre county. In fact, Centre county never had what is termed a full reed band. All the manager, leader and members of the organization now want is the encouragement of the citizens and they will give Bellefonte a band of which it can justly feel proud.

Arrangements are now in progress for the giving of a band concert in Garman's opera house on the evening of May 30th, Decoration day, in order to raise money to fully equip the organization. The price of admission will be very reasonable, but fuller particulars of this concert will be given later.

CRAWFORD—SPANGLER.

On Thursday night at 9 o'clock Rev. J. W. Rue, pastor of the Chestnut Avenue Methodist Episcopal church of Altoona, performed the cermony at the residence of Mr. J. A. Martz, 328 Willow avenue, which united the lives and fortunes of Mr. E. W. Crawford and Miss Maggie J. Spangler, both of Centre Hall, Centre county, where the groom is engaged in merchandising. They have been visiting friends in Altoona and returned to their homes this morning.

—Frtday was the day set for the examination of candidates for permaneut and professional certificates. The examining committee held its session in the High School room in the brick building on Bishop street. There ten candidates for permanent certificates examined by the committee, and twenty-five applicants for professional certificates were examined by Superintendent Gramley. Of course, it will be some days yet before the candidates know whether they were successful or not.

—On Tuesday evening, April 24th, Rev. M. L. Ganoe, of Altoona, will deliver his famous lecture, "A Boy in the War, or The Funny Side of Soldier Life," in Garman's opera house for the benefit of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. It is a new lecture, intensely interesting—at once novel and unique. Few are the lectures that equal it. Every person in Bellefonte wants to hear it. The price of admission will be but 25 cents to all parts of the house.

—Dr. William Laurie, still being too much indisposed to preach, the pulpit in the Presbyterian church was on Sunday filled by Rev. R. M. Campbell, of Port Royal, Juniata county, who preached both morning and evening. Rev. Campbell is a fast talker, a good preacher, and his sermons on Sunday were much enjoyed by all his hearers.

—It was only a fair sized crowd that went on the special over the Bellefonte Central to State College on Saturday night to hear the lecture of Gen. B. F. Fisher. Those that went enjoyed the lecture but those who went for the reception and dance at University Inn were somewhat disappointed, as there was no dance.

—Samuel Blanchard, of Peale, committed suicide a few days ago by taking a dose of laudanum. He was postmaster at Peale under Harrison's administration and leaves a wife and seven children.

TALK UP YOUR TOWN.

Modesty Should not Prevent its Good Points From Being Known.

If you live in a town, you should believe in it. If you don't believe your own town or city is a little better in most respects than any of its neighbors, you should move out. Like other places, it has advantages that others have not and your modesty should not prevent you from making that fact known whenever the opportunity presents itself. At home or abroad, whether pursuing pleasure or engaged in business, do not neglect to give those with whom you come in contact to understand that you live in a live town populated by enterprising, go ahead progressive people and one that is advancing instead of retrograding. If you can truthfully speak in commendation of the ability of your professional men, the square dealing methods of your merchants the excellence of your mechanics, the superiority of your churches, schools and public institutions, and the industry, energy and sobriety of your citizens generally, let nothing prevent you from exercising that privilege. You should learn to believe, if you do not already, that we have all these and in addition the handsomest women, the best located town, the finest country surrounding it.

If there are any drawbacks, it will not be necessary to mention them. The people and newspapers of competing towns will relieve you of that task by attending to that part of it themselves. Strangers seeking a location are always greatly influenced in favor of any place whose citizens are enthusiastic in its praise. No city or town can expect to attain prominence over its rivals unless its inhabitants appreciate the excellence and virtues of each other and will collectively spread abroad their faith in the present prosperity and future greatness of their own locality. Talk is a cheap commodity, but when rightly utilized it can be made effective in many directions, and this is one of them.

THE FAST MAIL.

A production of unusual magnitude will be given at the opera house next Monday evening. Lincoln J. Carter's superb scenic melodrama "The Fast Mail." As its name indicates, it deals largely with the railroad in its incidents, but it presents an abundance of effects that are daring in their magnitude and admirable in their execution. The steamboat is said to be a wonder of clever conception and masterly mechanical work, and the railroad scene, with its trains going at a terrific rate of speed, makes the stage seem like a piece of reality. The Niagara Falls scene is wonderfully beautiful, and it may safely be said is more elaborate than anything of the kind ever before attempted in this city.—There are a multitude of minor effects that contribute to make the performance a revelation of realism. The whistles, bells and splashing are heard as the boat leaves the wharf. The sounds that tell us of an approaching train herald the approach of the freight and the fast mail train—the latter rushing by with people gazing from the window at the heroine who has just saved her lover's life by fastening a letter to the mail pouch. The roaring of Niagara Falls is heard, and the mist that rises from it is shown vividly. The play is under the personal direction of L. C. Carter, the author. The cast is said to be a capable one. The play is startling at times in the intensity of its climaxes, and these, when presented with all the effects of the intricate stage settings, bring the interest to a degree that is rarely attained even in the melodrama. A large number of people are employed in the production, which is in many particulars plainly the result of care and skill combined.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE.

The annual catalogue of the Pennsylvania State College, now being distributed throughout the state to persons desiring it, is an interesting publication of about two hundred pages. The institution exists under the appropriations made by the national government to the several states and under the liberal grants of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The catalogue shows a prosperous year and a very remarkable growth of the college, during the past few years, along industrial lines. There are 316 students in attendance this year, pursuing eleven different courses; nine technical (scientific) and two general. Electrical Engineering attracts the largest number of students; Mechanical Engineering comes next, closely followed by Civil and Mining Engineering, Chemistry, Biology, Physics and Agriculture are also well represented. A number of graduate students are doing work along electrical and mechanical lines. There are forty-one in the corps of instructors. Courses in Mining Engineering and high mathematics have been added during the past year. The very full directions for preparing for admission to the college show that a good standard is maintained and guarantees a work creditable to the culmination of the public school system of Pennsylvania. Examinations for entrance are announced to be held in the leading cities of the State about August 27th.

—The cow ordinance, or rather the enforcement of it, seems to be growing somewhat lax, according to the complaints received at borough council Monday evening. The school board complained that cows were daily trespassing on the grounds surrounding the stone school house and were doing considerable damage to the sodded terraces at that place. Complaint was also received that they were roaming unmolested around the new Lutheran church and on East Linn street. Now that there is a cow ordinance it should either be enforced or repealed.

HUNTINGDON'S REVIVAL.

The revival meeting which has been in progress in the Second M. E. church, since January 31st, says the Huntingdon Local News, came to a close on Sunday night. The church as has been the case for weeks was crowded and hundreds were turned away. During the continuance of the meetings upwards of four hundred souls started in the divine life, three hundred of which number joined the church. It has been the greatest religious awakening Huntingdon has experienced in many years and everything taken into consideration, one of the greatest in the history of the Central Penna. Conference. During the past three years six hundred and eighty two souls have been converted in this church, a troublesome parsonage debt paid, a new church costing sixty-two hundred dollars built, and the officials are now seriously considering the question of enlarging the building, though but a little more than a year old.

"THE POPULAR PREACHER."

Rev. M. L. Ganoe, the popular preacher delighted a large audience last night in the Seminary Chapel with his depictions of war experiences. His incidents of the life of "A Boy in the War" alternately brought laughter and tears. So impressive truthful and real were his descriptions. Possessing the rare faculty of impressing and edifying he made all feel as if actual scenes were passing before them and increased their desire to hear him again with the promise of such an intellectual treat.—Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

Rev. Ganoe will deliver the above popular lecture in Garman's opera house, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., on Tuesday evening, April 24th. Everybody wants to go and hear him. Price of admission, only 25 cents to all parts of the house.

THE CHERRYTREE MONUMENT.

The Commissioners of Three Counties Take Steps to Locate It.

The county commissioners of Indiana, Clearfield and Cambria counties met at the Henderson house, Cherrytree, Thursday of last week, for the purpose of fixing the location of the famous cherry tree which is to be the spot on which the monument is to be erected. The county surveyors of the three counties were present. The meeting was organized by electing A. E. Woodridge, of Clearfield, president, and Clarence Hart, of Indiana county, secretary. The subject was thoroughly discussed, and it was decided to employ the county surveyors of the three counties to make a careful and accurate survey of the "Purchase Line," the county lines centreing at the tree, and fix the exact place for the location of the monument. As this work will require several days, the meeting adjourned to assemble at the call of the president. The surveyors will meet at Cherrytree on Monday, April 17th, and perform the duties of their appointment. The spot where the cherry tree stood is supposed to be near the middle of the Susquehanna.

Governor Pattison, General Beaver, General Hastings and a number of other distinguished people have promised to be present at the dedication. An elaborate program will be prepared for the occasion which will likely take place on the Fourth of July.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY.

On Monday Mr. Thomas Wilson, who lives at the toll gate between Bellefonte and Milesburg, was 71 years of age and his comrades in G. A. R. Post 261, of Milesburg thought it a good opportunity to show their appreciation and good fellowship for one who was a brave soldier and who is now a loyal citizen. Consequently the word was passed quietly around among the members of the Post, who brought to their assistance the members of Relief Corps, No. 3 of Milesburg, and together they got up a surprise for their venerable friend the like of which he has probably not experienced since he rode through the enemy's country in those dark days of '61—'65.

It was yet early in the evening when the Post, fully forty strong, and the Relief Corps, headed by the Milesburg band and a drum corps, besieged and took possession of the Wilson homestead without even the firing of a gun. The surprise was so great that Mr. Wilson was captured just as he was, arrayed in blue jacket and overalls, and he was forced to surrender everything to the enemy. It is needless to state how genial and cheering was the unbounded hospitality and flow of conversation to all. But the most enjoyable part of the evening was when the ladies invited all present, numbering fully one hundred, to partake of a bounteous repast which they had kindly prepared for the occasion. And that was the time when the old soldier fully illustrates that he has lost none of the vigor and spirit of the days of the war. Suffice to say that everybody done justice to the more than sumptuous supper, and that there was abundance and to spare of all the choicest things that man loves to eat.

After supper was over Rev. J. C. Young, Mr. Wilson's pastor, of Pleasant Gap; and Mr. W. H. Musser and Thomas Toot, of Bellefonte but members of Post 261, made their appearance. Addresses appropriate to the occasion were made by Rev. Young, Post Chaplain Thomas Wilson and Post Commander J. A. Green. After a most enjoyable evening everybody departed for their homes with the wish that the genial host might live to enjoy many more birthday anniversaries.
